

Princess Sophia to Princess Charlotte

[? Feb. 1815]

My Dearest Charlotte
 I can not tell you how happy how delighted I felt at the receipt of your very kind and affec-onate letter but honestly speaking I never take my solemn oath that you are my constant thought, and that your care and solicitation are the continual sources of my Anxiety and Sorrow.
 Whatever you may hear or be told not afraid that you have friends who will not abandon you and that your friends who will not abandon you and that their numbers far from diminishing in consequence of your exile as well as their tenderness and care for you are increasing. Which was not the case in July last but the matter does require still a little patience which after all you have suffered you must still submit to a little longer in order to enjoy the full benefit of it to the point upon which you are most anxious. I will make the proper inquiries but in matters of such Delicacy time must be given because you shall then not meet the chance but the time that you shall then sooner or later depend upon it as to the 9. I wish than my friends. What has all hopes are yet given up at head quarters they still flatter themselves that the heart may take place at least so I hear but there is very much to myself and so long return that do not learn much as most of my friends are still out of town, and that my health which is however better does not allow me to travel about sufficiently to get much information. You are clear of enemies whom in complete ignorance with the family address does neither surprise or shake or attempt I can not say it is very pleasant but except the pleasure of seeing you which would be a great consolation to me especially if I could be of any service perhaps it is for the best. First our dear Do not agree & consequently the communication could neither be pleasant nor advantageous to either party. Secondly I should not for the world have been with whom I have not conversed communication

? Prince of Orange

Princess Sophia to Princess Charlotte

[? Feb 1815]

believe that I could ever waver or alter either in my fidelity or devoted and disinterested attachment towards you in a single point. I can but my hand to my breast and with the sincerest devotion & vivacity I declare that when called upon to advise again the same recommendation would be renewed on at that time when they were most honestly given with a perfect freedom of belief might happen but will assure that with care & firmness the plan steadily pursued must ultimately carry the day. I can only hope of this country that her liberations which and from us all on the true character has not suffered different quarters your character has not suffered you are beloved to people are most of their love you and your situation is a source of love & constant conversation when the same is expressed on all occasions. That there are black sheets you must expect the same as every one else and that the more you will find of the world but that is no more than what them as in certain experiences besides without every one must in this world we should meet some blagues in this world we should meet know the value of our existence nor leave to recognize our happiness when we are helped with it. I have never attempted to do so conscious has dangerous letters are and perfect but any independence of their mind occur on you some additional satisfaction but tell I can dead would make one miserable but tell I can have the good fortune to see you comfortably in trouble and, particularly your health in life and to your own care by your own health. I can be by me by my health and unless you can be by peace health hereafter in other quarters I am perfectly satisfied as to its being made up for you than your friend are little better than the help me take them the help me is dropped and the help trouble me has subsided one being paid by the 2000. can I have every day in the year but the person who will I wish to see in storm weather who will not stand on his feet in the time of trial the perhaps and most likely may not be the most agreeable but the best person he is the subject. Come as they say Charlotte than as the perfect but the other side of the hill which I am now to you may be so down. Is your age I had been told but that is now now when by former his feet have been of late they were not called forth and now it is too late for me to go back in a very certain life but still to seem you no danger nor time we can frighten me and if at any time found to say a thing they about you will take the honor by the intent as the test of my conduct - I have no when I do that I never will say behind your back as that of long ago what I should or will not say to speak for. There are not times for flatterers to visit trusts to and distinguish Calmer must be listened to and half named which unfortunately in the middle the order of the day must be explored your steadiness your honesty your good heart and your generous feelings will carry you through the situation as you would surely have been that as however which wife you alone can give I can only give in to have entirely resigned but confidence in me steady and true friends of such you have that the know will bring you through this is a long term on Charlotte I am not a doctor after a time from I must profit of the opportunity I will not about what you want but for myself I believe the report not to be true however the day for myself without being sent to the court by the dinner at my house the table your health is the best I wish

Could my wishes and my prayers make you up to my dear Charlotte long ago to me you have enjoyed the brightest sunshine but all is for the best your happy trials even will do you good & I trust ~~that~~ of my friends and my brethren in contribute toward your Advancement I hope you will not for a moment doubt but that they will be employed with great fidelity & zeal with pleasure. Keep up your courage you have nothing to fear if you have had so many a successful I know it but too well that such has been the case of your most happy trials recalled by Admonition the time is as I give them Patience, Industry & Perseverance They are excellent Guardians and will convey you through every difficulty. It is with great reluctance that we say do not myself to a conclusion but do not I am sure you would be sorry for you to see do not find to your own do not with an do not I should think you would be do not but by heart in very do not and do not do not I believe for a third time do not do not for your do not do not do not I can not do not and do not do not say, but it is do not that my do not can you do not do not do not believe that more than do not do not desire to see you do not and I can do not with you in do not put the do not to your do not during all our do not do not do not see any more in your do not do not do not not that do not and do not do not self to see that do not like do not to see me & to speak with me do not do not do not I am for do not do not do not do not you have do not do not do not do not your do not do not do not do not made to you do not do not do not do not