

Duke of Cambridge
Feb. 1830

Yours Feb. 14th 1830.

My dear General

Lieutenant Walk, who has lately got a Commission in the Regt. is the bearer of this letter. He is an Irishman <sup>and</sup> in consequence of his being an Englishman by birth he has been educated at ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> ~~same~~ <sup>same</sup> ~~place~~ <sup>place</sup> and since he left the College he has been at an ~~Academy~~ which is now here where he has endeavoured to turn himself entirely to my satisfaction.

Lord Gill has had the kindness to my request to give him a Commission in the Royal Army, and I have every reason to think he will turn out a very valuable acquisition to his Majesty.

I therefore can safely recommend him to you, and I shall feel much obliged to you for any attention you will show him and particularly if you would keep an eye upon him.

I hope in the course of the summer to go over to England, and I rejoice at the prospect of seeing you again, and of repeating then the words of a person of my ever remaining

My dear Greenwood

Yours

most sincerely

Adolphus Cradock.
