

George IV

Windsor Castle.
August 23rd 1814.

Dear Birknell,

I wish, you would contrive to come down here, this evening about nine or ten o'clock, or at any rate at a very very early hour indeed
I am in dressing, and I must leave this place at latest before Ten o'clock;
for I have some very particular matters
of business to talk over with you, and which I can not easily do in a hurry, and I must see you, before I start upon my journey.

Always most sincerely yours

George IV.
