

Post script) My friend, you have been deceived, Mrs. Robinson lives with her Husband & they have never been separated
- the young Baronet if, he did boast, - boasted falsely Her Husband is young, Idle, & extravagant, & they have experienced distress, but her present occupation, as an actress, enables them to live perfectly to their taste, & at their ease - They have a little Girl about 4 or 5 years old - I know their whole History, which I got at by mere chance, & from what I think, the most undoubted authority - You have been abused by some designing person - take care that you are not drawn into some snare & Oh! boast not not the title of a Lethario lest you should meet with his fate - 'Tis a detestable Subject - I will write no more -

[Faint, mirrored handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is illegible due to fading and bleed-through.]