Dear Sir,

The Duke of York and Princes and Princesses of Orange mean to go with me tomorrow to Exeter, &c. I am therefore to request you will for tomorrow lend me your house and drive all the females of your name & your family to turn out for these noble foreigners: I trust this will be no inconvenience to you as from your hospitality your family are so deservedly favourites of the neighbourhood: I shall send my servants and every thing over: Therefore

I shall not put you to any inconvenience: you yourself will be our medicine with us:

My best wishes and compliments attend the la-dies and ever believe me,

Dear Sir,

Yours sincerely,

J. J. J.
