

Malmer.
June 19: 1822.

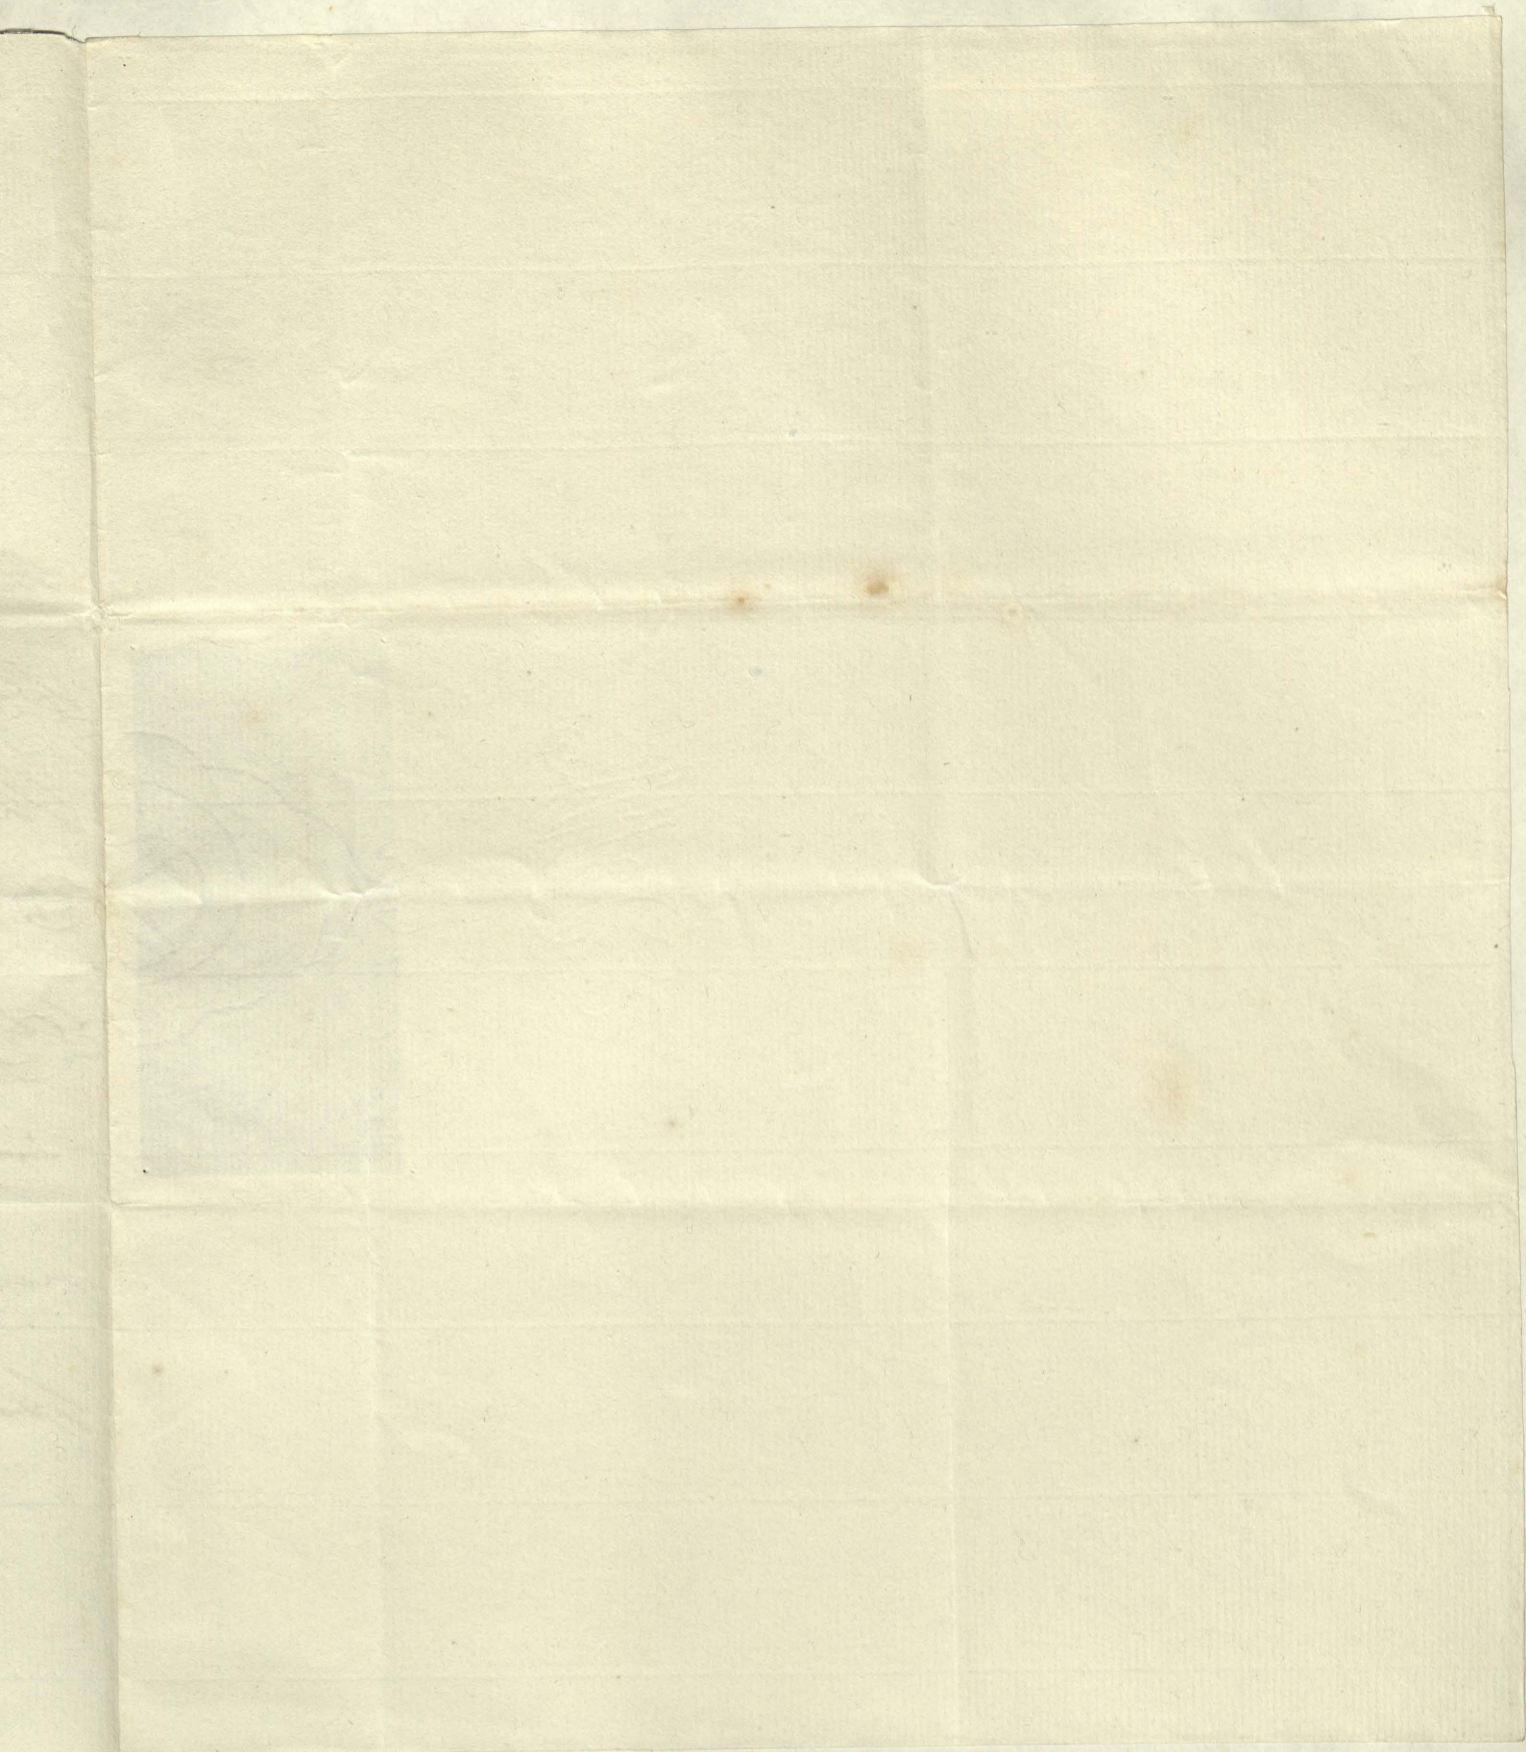

Dear Sir,

Having this morning received the enclosed you will take the proper steps with Bastman perhaps exchange the mine.

The Dutchess desires to know how the parrot fares and trusts whether you now Mr. Oak forget the land:
tell Elphick not to forget to put the posts and rail-ing in the West front by the plantation near the new garden front before horses are tarred in to that front: adieu and ever believe me,

Yours sincerely
P. M. M.
