most faithful and affectionate Brother, to which Captain Parker is permitted to add, That, if any circumstances should hereafter occur, to enable His Royal Highness to assist him, by his interest, he will feel a real pleasure, in proving that his actions keep pace with his professions.

My dear Mr. Bouverie

The Public Report appearing in the Newspapers, a report of the Duke of Kent's indisposition, commands me to enquire the particulars for you

which H. N. O. is anxious to be informed upon without delay - The Prince Regent hopes the statement of Physicians being sent for is without authority, and that the complaint may prove merely a passing cold. You will, no doubt, feel it to be your duty to acquaint the Duke of Kent with this circumstance of the Prince Regent's solicitude -

Loentano, in a postscript, to offer my dutiful compliments which, he says he are not words of course.

Sir,

Your letter of the 19th Instant, with its Enclosure, only reached my hands yesterday evening after the Post had gone out, which will account for my not having noticed it sooner - and yours of the 20th has come to hand this morning - I hope you will be assured how much I am concerned at the melancholy accounts which they give of my Brother's Health: - But I am General Boethwell

Sincerely

sincerely trust the next Bulletin will be more favorable.

I remain,

Si,

Yours sincerely

Frederick

My dear brother

I can not describe the dates which your letter & the Bulletin have occurred to the Paris Report - Still, his Royal Highness will not surrender hope,

particularly with such powers of contribution as the Duke of Kent has ever displayed -

The Prince Regent desires that you will express everything that is worth feeling, & worth affecting to the Duke of Kent, and assure Her Royal

Highness, of his deep sympathy - The Day having passed without further intelligence from you, has increased His Royal Highness's hopes, & I fervently pray that they may be realized -

Yours sincerely
Wm Pitt
