

W. M. to Lord North

Mar. 17 1772

1283

Printed June 197

Lord North, As two o'clock is not convenient to you a little before three will do just as well; I have dedicated this unpleasant Morning to going through the whole of the Danish Correspondence which by the Jespergers dispatches seem to be drawing to a conclusion, great rancour and an inclination to blacken the affair as much as possible is not wanting, therefore the decision must be now finally taken

Lucas House
March 17. 1772
on p. 10. A.M.
57

[Faint, illegible handwritten text on aged paper, possibly a letter or document fragment.]