Aug 30. 1772

Lord Suffolk, Your letter to Lord North and his answer, are so agreeable to the ideas I expressed in the letter I wrote yesterday to you, that I can only express my approbation of them. Therefore if by tomorrow's Post we hear from Sweden that the States and Senate seem firm, it will be proper to empower Sir John Goodrich to draw to the extent of £15,000. provided that sum can defeat the attempts of the King of Sweden; but otherwise that the Cape cannot expect any assistance from hence, after having so little counteracted the intrigues of the Court, though so timely warned from hence; my reason for only naming the Cape sum, is to keep something in hand, as Sir John is but too ready to go to the utmost extent of his credit.
