

hd Suffolk

Sept. 5 1772

660/mans/1388

Lord Suffolk, by a mistake of the Messenger who instead of coming to him from New, returned to the Office, has but this instant received Your Majesty's commands, and Both's Dispatches - could your Majesty find a few minutes leisure I permit him to wait upon your Majesty upon this critical business, at any time tomorrow your Majesty's pleasure to appoint?

Hampton Court
Sept. 5. 1772. 15th P.M.

Lord Suffolk

5th Sep^r 1772

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper.]