GEO/MAIN/1389

Lord Suffolk has the honour to assure Your Majesty that You will find your Commands obey'd at the end of a private Letter to Sr John Goodricke, which several other dra<sup>ts</sup> will be sent to Your Majesty from the office in the course of the day. Amongst them Your Majesty will find quite a private Letter to Mr. Gunning, which he trust own is a little à la Blaquiere; however it may have its use. He has received answers from from Lord Rochford & Lord North, which he has the honour to lay before Your Majesty.

He wrote to the rest of the Cabinet, but cannot be informed of their sentiments yet. Upon reflection, he thought it best to send a Mepenger to Petersbourg; and accordingly means to do so.
