My Lord, I have seen the Duke of Camberland this morning, who came to beg me to see D. Townsend, I will therefore you would send to him to be with me after the Drawing Room; I find James Greenwell is not likely to take office; I beg you will see Mr. Yorke & tell him that those who are to take part in my Administration insist on Mr. May & the Attorney General not having their Employments; that I will take care both shall know how generously he has acted towards them, & that I hope this will heal any Delicacy he may have on the subject, & that I may see him in the Post of Attorney General; I beg you will call at the Queen's House at half hour post in a report to answer it is of the greatest consequence. You should see him therefore for God sake get hold of him, & by coming at that hour to the Duke of Cambridge will hear from your mouth what you he has said for I will on no account bores that at all. I think honest man, for I can scarce think he has agreed to giving up May, if he has at the present juncture it would be happy.
