

specification of the jewels & Pearls, which His Majesty delivered over to His Privy counsellors, to lodge in the Treasure; on the 14: of August 1752.

First Parcel that
His Majesty had worn Himself

1. a Star, which Queen Ann gave Prince George of Denmark but which He never wore.

2. Forty Coat Buttons & thirty six waistcoat Buttons of Facettes.

3. Twelve Rings in a Shagrin
Box, one of which was Duke George's wedding Ring.

4. a George, to which belongs
a great Rose-Diamond.

5. a Loop for the Hat, of Facettes.

6. a Pair of Brilliant Shoe
Buckles.

7. a George, to which belongs
a Brilliant, which was bought for £4500.

9. a Jewel of the sort which is commonly called Ruby = = balay, which was given by the Czar Peter to King, William

Second Parcel, the late Queen's jewels.

9. a Fan set with Brilliants that was given the late Queen by the Empress Elizabeth.

10. a Pearl Necklace of the late Queen's consisting of thirty one Pearls.

11. a Pearl Necklace of Queen Anne's consisting of seven & thirty Pearls.

12. a Pearl - Necklace of the late Electress Sophia, consisting of seven & thirty Pearls.

13. Four Loops of Brilliants that the Queen wore upon her Sleeves

14.

N^o. 14. Two ~~Strings~~ ^{Strings} of Pearls for Bracelets, one of one hundred & ninety one, the other of one hundred & ninety four Pearls.

15. A Girdle Buckle of Brilliant

16. An ornament below the Girdle Buckle.

17. a Pair of Ear-Rings of Six Diamonds, that the late Queen commonly wore.

18. a Pair of Pearl Ear-
Rings & Drops

19. a Picture, in a red velvet case.

20. Six Loops for the Sleeves, of Brilliant

21. a Pair of Diamond Ear-
Rings that cost £7000:

22. an other Pair, that cost £5000.

23. a little red Case, wherein is ~~the~~

N^o 1.

Translation of the German List of his late Majesty's jewels.

wherein is ~~(A) one Drop~~

A) one Drop

B) ... Finger Ring.

C) Two little Rings

N^o 24. The late Queen's Tomache, the largest Diamond of which cost £18,000. the second £5800. the third was made out of the Queen's wedding Ring. The two above on the side, a Present made the Queen upon her wedding

The Pearls a Present from the late Dutchess of Zell.

The two middle Stones were bought by the Queen herself.

Third Parcel

25. a gold sword set with Diamonds, in a Rayn case