

A. M. to P. cess Augusta

July 5 1762

15768

Last Year I wrote to Y. to enquire whether Y. wish'd the King's Prince should be encouraged to hope for Y. hand, Y. answer (which I have still by me) encouraged me to undertake this delicate affair, thus things have nearly stood, from Y. singularity of Y. D. of Brun., Mr. Gray Man now in Y. stronger manner expresses his desire of marrying Y. & has offer'd to come here whenever it is thought right; Y. own good sense must show Y. Y. it would not be proper for him to leave Y. army whilst in Y. field; therefore his journey hither must be deferred; Y. more I hear of him, Y. more I think he will make Y. happy, for his heart & principles are certainly good tho' now & then his passions have hurried him away, which he has ever sincerely repented of, having now acquainted Y. with the manner in which Y. affair stands, I have nothing to add &c.
