

Draft to the E. of Holderness
Queens House March 21th 1771

15911

Queens House March 21th 1771.

Lord Holderness, The opinions You seem to have of Mr. Nonchewer makes me sorry he has declined; I own I cannot as yet form any idea of a proper person for so material an employment, and therefore must occur to desiring Your attendance at dinner
this Evening, when I trust You will if not recommend, think aloud
If any applications to leave how far Doctor Ford has answered Your expectations
~~I shall be curious to hear what progress this day with the~~ ~~Bishop of Chester, and what effect the interview with Doctor Ford~~
~~has answered Your expectations.~~

George W.
