

Unfinished draft of 15967

Ct. Oster's Confession to Sir Mt.
Keith that from the first it had been resolved to obtain a Divorce is a most glaring proof of their deceitfulness of conduct with regard to Mrs, instead of the confidence that was alledged; the only means now of acting is to shew
that firmness which a rectitude
of

1772

1891

[Faint, illegible handwriting in cursive script, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

unfinished draft of next

15968

Count Oster's confession to Sir Rob. Smith that from the first ^{a Divorce had been}
~~it was resolved to obtain a Divorce,~~ is so flagrant a proof of the Duplicity of his Court, instead of the Confidence ~~the~~ during the whole transaction pretended the King placed in ~~the~~
it is absolutely necessary to act up to ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~Majesty~~ of Cabinet that no conduct can be proper but the shewing that firmness which truth always is [Faint, illegible handwriting on a piece of lined paper, possibly a letter or document fragment.]