Sir

Prince George at Sea off the Land's End

I should not have troubled Yr Majesty with another letter so soon but that I wrote in such haste when I wrote last, (having had no notice of the Vesels going in) that I scarcely know if I gave Your Maj^{ty} an intelligible acc^t.
It is now wth the greatest pleasure I can inform You Sir That Prince William is perfectly well, Has never once been sea sick or out of spirits, and is so attentive to me and so pleasing that I cant wish the least alteration in him, and I find by Mr. Waddington He is by no means backward in his Math-ematics. Mr. Myerdie will have give Yr. Maj.^y an acc.^t how his time is dis-posed of. I shall therefore only say that he is extremely punctual which I shall always encourage as much as possible, as it is one of the most necessary qualifications an Officer can have.

I am w.th greatest respect

Yr. Maj.^y very faithful & very dutifull

Servant
