Windsor Castle July 31. 1780.

Dear Brother, It is impossible that I can do otherwise than applaud your desire to serve in your Profession; but as the putting it into execution at present has its difficulties, it must require mature consideration, and consequently some time will elapse before I shall think myself in a situation to say any thing farther on this subject. I shall ever remain

Dear Brother

Your most Affectionate Brother

George J.

The King
