Mr Pitt humbly begs Leave to acquaint Your Majesty that the last night saw again Mr Lyke and the other Gentlemen of the Prince of Wales's Family, who brought with them some further Accounts. - They have undertaken to send to Day a more correct Statement of the Heads under which the several Ancears fall; but they imagined them to be nearly in the proportion of 40,000 for the Privy Purse; 55,000 £ for Carlton House, 16,000 £ on the Comptroller's Account; and 33,000 £ Ancears of Stables. -- It appeared also on the Examination of the Accounts of Summs paid each Quarter, that under the Head of Disbursements by Col. Hotham stated in in the Quarterly Abstract which Mr Pitt had the Honor of laying before your Majesty yesterday, there were comprehended various sums paid by His Royal Highness's Order to reimburse Money which had been advanced to them, and of the Application of which No Account is given, amounting to about 37,000 £, over and above 16,000 £.

paid during the same period to Mr Lyte for Privy Purse, and also over and above the sum of 13,000 £ due on Bonds, and inclu-
