

Euc.

May 29 1787

16606

At five in the morning A. P. H. took an opening medicine which soon produced a good effect - the consequence is that the pulse is now reduced to ten beats in a minute less than last night - his P. H. is now calm, disposed to rest, & every thing is taking a right course -

H. in the morning
May 29. 1787

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting on lined paper]