

AA

June 23rd, 1797.

H. M. to P. C. of Hales

see also 39252, 36715.

16715

My Dear Son, Yesterday Frederick put into my hands ~~your~~ the papers of instructions you had given him, and a copy of the ~~order~~ given to the Earl of Moira that the Princess might explicitly know your sentiments on a reconciliation. I should not do justice to the Earl of Moira's conduct on this most unpleasant occasion if I did not give my fullest approbation to the object he has invariably had in view of effecting this desirable end with the most scrupulous attention to French character as well as that of the Princess.

I had just before Frederick came to me received a letter from the Princess, but not had time to open it which now that I am fully possessed of your intentions & that ~~the~~ <sup>myself</sup> will enable me speedily to restore harmony into your house, for I find she begins to think the Public suppose her address to a reconciliation this has enabled me rather to confirm that opinion and to point out to her the necessity of the <sup>it</sup> who he being instantly told that as you have on her representation consented that Lady Jersey shall retire from her service and not be admitted to her private society, <sup>that ought to be insisted</sup> which you ~~are~~ <sup>are</sup>

as Drawing Rooms for the present inevitably presents will be proper on both sides that both on meeting shall declare the ~~the same appearing at any~~ no further mention shall be made of this business and the whole be forgot.

I cannot at the same time help expressing to you that no mistake may arise from the word private Society that I understand this includes all Societies not only being brought to another House but any other House the Private may be at, as Publicly means places of Ceremony such as Drawing Rooms and public Assemblies.