

Ld. Murray to Col. McCracken.

17898-9

Warrington
April 11th 1811.

Closed with Colbeck & Miles I un-
-tiringly shall be, and, on my own princi-ple, I expect that you will employ George Wager to shoot me as a veni-sance. Still, I must thank you.

In the first place I enclose a letter from Hamilton for whom I solicited the office of Scotch master of the hunt.
In relation I suffered at reading it &c.

him yet off better with me than he otherwise would have done. but I judged by my own feelings that he must have been in agony when he discovered his mistake & after one glow of anger I commiserated him... make my excuse as well as you can to the Prince for my having so unob-servedly trespassed on his kindness & put him to particular trouble. I could not, however,

Ld. Howe to Col. McCracken.

17899

With the vacancy in How's office
- I am, as he is a man so well known & I wish to see you then on like.

I am very glad the batch happens out of the L. Service: but you will see that he equally feels the delicate liberality of the Prince, & that, on being permitted to keep the batch he will always estimate it as a present bestowed by His Royal Highness.

Thank you for the details from Portugal
I see you have been giving the guns are not having intercepted the -test. We are so ignorant of military matters as not to know that it is the business of a main guard to retire & that the making it do so is not victory?

Faithfully yours
Charles de Rohan. Thiers
