

B. Bloomfield 6 H.R.A.

copy
11

18795-6

I had the peculiar satis-faction upon my arrival at the H. of C. to find Lord Cartwright, and to obtain from him the confession that your N. M. had justly estimated his letter, which was written under the influence of passion, Despair, Jealousy & mortification, and which had operated so strongly upon the picture which he drew that the facts do which the facts of the Case did not bear out nevertheless. G. N. M. is not to believe that the

copy
11

18796

Which denigrates the Independent members.

but to the <sup>honesty</sup> example of superiority in the attendance of the official members & a general want of energy in the H. of C. by which the Opposition has been allowed to originate any motion & to have got possession of the Committee upon the main question now
under consideration.
L.S. admitted that there was a waywardness in the friends & supporters of the Government which rendered <sup>the</sup> conduct of

Position of the Government is without its dangers though, by no means, so critical as J.R. He was wounded in supposing you L.C.'s report. I found that the Catholic League in the H. of Lords was prepared to holiday week, & therefore sought the Chancellor at his house, above, by effort.
-ment, I called at nine o'clock & upon Lord Sed.
at ten. The Lord Chan.
describes the debate of last night, not to the same causes of ~~that~~ as L.C.

of the public services extremely arduous & doubtful. Still he did not despair of maintaining the ground upon which G. R. G. had placed the Government & to he felt it to be the unanimous opinion of the Cabinet to devote its members to your service without reserve. The Chancellor <sup>too</sup> was very strong in the ~~same~~ chain of affection &
attachment to G. R. G.

18797 - 8

I stated that not discovering any particular purpose for
G. R. W. when I did not give them access to expect her until next week, at the same time I must not conceal from G. R. W. that much strength
good is naturally expected from her presence, as it never can fail to stimulate & inspire,
she is to be absent
tomorrow when the State of Things Section of last night is expected to form a historical picture and where I have been to believe, a more vigorous series of principles of conduct will be urged by some of the ~~members~~ as alone calculated to meet the difficulties of the Series - I am to see Lord Castlereagh who Lansford is to borrow after what I will not delay my return & hunt

is good to find D. K. M. is an unaltered course of improvement, &
that nothing of the same

18798

of my journey will have transpired - but Lord C. should become perfectly & D. K. M. be robbed of the few remaining days of comfort, which I hope are still in store for ~~the~~ you

Heaven preserve

D. K. M.

1803

? date

• from

• Sir B. Moorfield