

Eldon
The Lord Chancellor,
6. July. 1812.

19179

The Lord Chancellor offers his humble Duty to Your Royal Highness The Prince Regent - and takes Leave to mention that he has had ~~an~~ Opportunity of seeing Mr Perival, to whom he has stated, with as much Fidelity, (as his Recollection would enable him to state <sup>it</sup>) the Conversation, or the Substance of it, with which he was honoured this Morning. He understood from Mr Perival that he was willing to have the Honour of waiting upon Your Royal Highness upon some other Subject to morrow Morning. The Lord Chancellor will not fail very anxiously to consider what Advice he he can with Respect, himself, humbly offer to Your Royal Highness, upon the Subject, with reference, <sup>to what</sup> Your Royal Highness condescended to converse with him to day, whenever he may again be honoured with an Interview by Your Royal Highness
