

Lord Rockford

Nov. 27 1774

1920

Lord Rockford humbly implores your majesty's forgiveness for presuming to trouble your majesty with the inclosed correspondance, but he thought the ridiculousness of it might occasion your majesty some mirth. Lord Rockford takes this opportunity of acquainting your majesty that he has learnt from Col. Painsford that the two Dukes have not seen each other this summer and that although the Duke of Gloucester called twice on the Duke of Cumberland the latter never returned the visit and there is a great coolness between them. Col. Painsford says the Dutches is not with child.
