Sir

Some Weeks since I did myself the Honour of transmitting to you a Petition which I had been desired by some of the most respectable Gentlemen of Liverpool to present on their behalf to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent upon the Subject of certain Orders of Council, and at the same time I took the Liberty of addressing a Note to you in which I requested you would lay this Petition before his Royal Highness in the way you thought more likely to call his Attention to the Subject. I immediately informed the Gentlemen interested in the fate of this Petition with what I had done, & told them that whenever I was conversed with any Person the same should be communicated to them. This Day's Post has brought me a most urgent Letter to know how far I had been able to obtain any Recourse or Notice of their Petition; I am therefore under the necessity of again troubling you to request you will favour me with some Answer or Acknowledgement that you have received this Petition for me that I may stand excused to them who are interested in the same, so far as may concern them. I have not any other thing which was in my power to facilitate the conveyance of them to the feet of His Royal Highness

I have the Honour to be with your command

Sir

Your Obedient Servant

Derby.
