Thursday 19th June [1812]St. Boncastle N<sup>o</sup>. 9. Tichborne Street.

called at my Chambers, having as he stated been at the Old Gen<sup>l</sup> Chambers & been informed from there to be. He informed that there had been a book called "The Empire" published & he understood it had been bought up but that he had one of the original publications in his possession. He stated that he did not wish to do any thing offensive or obnoxious to anyone, but that he was about to do but that not to be done by any other bookeller & he was wished to know whether there was any thing obnoxious in his book or not. I told him I knew nothing of the contents of the book having only seen it advertised that I could give him no advice about publishing any book, but that if he published any thing which was offensive or obnoxious it would probably fall to my lot to prosecute him.
