J. W. Croker

Dispatches
of Wellington's Victory

19950

Admty Aug 6. 1812.

Mr Croker presents his compliments to Major General Furness, and in obedience to His Royal Highness The Prince Regent's commands, transmits General Furnness a copy of all the papers which Mr Croker has received from his Home Office, & which should have been before sent, to be submitted to His Royal Highness, had Mr Croker not understood understood from said Melville that <sup>original</sup>

the papers had been communicated to His Royal Highness by his Lordship, & that it was therefore unnecessary to trouble His Royal Highness to look at them again.
