Downing Street
6 Aug 1842

Sir,

In the absence of Colonel Pakenham I have the honor of transmitting you the intelligence in regard to the victory gained by Lord Wellington over Massena which has been transmitted to this office from the Admiralty.

No accounts have been received addressed directly to this Department.

I am Sir

Your most obedient servant

Robert Peel
