A.A. No. 144

20028-9

Life House
Sep 15 1812

Lord Liverpool presents his humble duty to your Royal Highness, and having had the honour of calling at Carlton House this morn-ing, Col. Macmahan desired to see your Royal Highness's papers, respecting the Confidential Letters.

Lord Liverpool is apprehensive that con-siderable inconvenience may arise from the delay of sending these letters till Friday next, the hour to which they refer is so generally believed to be likely to take place, that the greatest activity, possible on the part of the opponents of your Royal Highness's Government, would be directed against upon the said Confidential and early Communication are in most quarters taking no steps whatever, and despise fear wherever that the delay will have the effect of offending the Duke of Bathurst and sensible of many others who naturally expect such a mark of confidence in the part of government, and say in some cases suffer seriously for the want of it.

and perhaps has in obedience to your Royal Highness's Commands desir'd reading the letter, which it was his intention to request your Royal Highness to see a superior to read by the Post of orders, but which some very important Con-sideration should influence your Royal Highness's mind, he humbly conceits your leave to be allowed to write confidentially to some of the friends of
