Sir

In obedience to Your Royal Highness's Command, I have communicated to Sir J. Leach Baron Comptroler's last letter.

Mr. Leblanc has this morning transmitted to me the information filed by me at Legation, The Prince's prochein ami, in the Court of Chancery, against the Earl of Liverpool and myself, together with the answer proposed by Mr. Leblanc.

I have sent these papers to Lord Liverpool and have proposed a meeting with Sir John Leach, for the purpose of considering the case.

To my great astonishment with

The claims ($\frac{15}{m}$ l and $\frac{15}{m}$ l imes) are mentioned, and the paper presents that we ought in conscience to have discharged these bills. -! This gives I think a fine opportunity for showing to the public what Her Royal Highness is capable of!
I am with the profoundest
Respect

See
Guss Royal Highness

Most humble and most devoted servant
