

Dear Sir

I inclose you a bill of lading, forwarded to me by M^r. Bellin, his Majesty's Charge d' Affaires & Consul General at Hamburg, on the part of the Postoffice of Geditsch of Leipzig - & I will thank you to claim the delivery of the box, which you will observe must be removed within 8 days after the ship's arrival. -

Would you would send down in the next parcel one of the quarto letter cases which are in my room - I find the letters accumulate here so much that it is difficult to keep them together, without a regular place to put them, where they may be referred to.

I inclose J. Clarke's letter respecting Mr. Pigott's Irish proverb. I also send his statement of books delivered at Carlton House. — On the whole it appears to me that expectations have been held out to him by J. Clarke, — but that no actual promise has been made of any definite assistance.
 Under all the circumstances, it will perhaps be right that Mr. Pigott should receive as follows,

For five copies of each of his works, the aggregate amount of which, as stated by himself, is £ 3. 2. 0 — — — 15. 10 0

For binding one copy of each, at the price stated by himself in the accompanying paper — — — — — 2. 0 0 £. 17. 10 -

You had therefore better mention the above to Mr. Gray, showing him at the same time J. Clarke's letter, with my compliments, & a recommendation to the above effect, but a receipt in full should be taken for all works delivered up to the present date, as the undefined promises which have been held out, have led him to form

28735 extraneous publications.

First the No of the Edinburgh Review which I return herewith, to be sent down to the King, & the No of the Quarterly of the Quarterly Edinburgh Review, ^{& L. Dym's tragedies,} to be forwarded to the care of Mr. Saunders, for the use of the breakfast room.

Of the three posthumous volumes of M^c Lee which are yet published in a form to match her other works, I should like them to be sent down to me with the following books.

West's Ten Year's Residence in France.

Allen's Brief Considerations on the present state of the Office of the Metropolis.

Reply to the charges of Mr. Adair Esq, against the M^r. of Winchester.

I enclose a letter for the 2 penny post.

I am, Dear Sir

very faithfully yours

Charles M. Sumner.

Windsor Jan^y. 2^d. 1822.
