Dear Sir

There is an advertisement in the Papers of Mr. Jeffries the Jeweller respecting the Prince. I know it to be only a Gub production, but I wish if you see Gibbs or Sutton you would check wth them about it. The original I left with Mr. Ad dington many months ago, & he told me the Prince should not conde-

Copy of a Letter to the PRINCE of WALES, enclosing the preceding Statement of Accounts, &c.

SIR,

Pall Mall, June 25, 1801.

FROM the difficulties I have experienced for the last four years, to provide for my family, arising from the mistaken idea of the public, that my misfortunes did not originate from the cause I state, but my own improper conduct; and the sanction this idea has unfortunately received from your ROYAL HIGHNESS totally withdrawing from me that patronage I had formerly the good fortune to enjoy, and which I am not conscious of ever having deserved to forfeit; I am most forcibly called upon, to take some method, publicly to vindicate my character in the opinion of the world, to whom I am ultimately to look for support.

I have drawn up the enclosed statement for that sole purpose; and your ROYAL HIGHNESS (I am confident), in the perusal of it, will not deny me the credit of having carefully abstained from all reflections on any individual.

The cruelty of my situation has seldom (I believe) been experienced by any man. My fortune has been ruined, my character discredited, and my health broken with excessive anxiety. All this has been produced, by placing an unlimited confidence in a quarter, where a doubt of its rectitude would have been insult.

The injury I individually complain of, Sir, is not confined to me; it extends to the public: A sacred principle of our Constitution—THE VERDICT OF A JURY—has been rendered of no effect.

Influenced by the powerful calls of necessity, and urged by no principle of repentment to any person, in the mode I adopt to vindicate my character, I hope for your ROYAL HIGHNESS's forgiveness, if any thing I have said should hurt your feelings. I assure your ROYAL HIGHNESS, nothing is farther from my intention.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your ROYAL HIGHNESS's obedient Servant,

NATH^l. JEFFERYS.

* The Right Honourable William Pitt, Chancellor of the Exchequer; the Right Hon. Henry Addington, Speaker of the House of Commons; Henry Strachey, Esq. M. P. Master of the King's Household; William Fordyce, Esq. M. P. Surveyor of the Crown Lands; and Mr. Sergeant Walker, Accountant General; Commissioners named in the Act for the Settlement of the Affairs of the Prince of Wales.

The amount of the account delivered to the Commissioners, in May 1795, for the jewels, for the Princess of Wales on her marriage, was 54,685*l.* and a proposal being made by the Commissioners, that I should deduct, as nearly as I can recollect, 14,000*l.* I asked if there was any appeal against the decisions of the Commissioners; to which Mr. Pitt, who was present, replied, that the act of Parliament provided redress by an appeal to a jury: to such a decision I determined to submit my claim, and, in February 1796, obtained A VERDICT for the sum mentioned in the annexed account.

Not a word was said during the trial, by the counsel for the Commissioners, of any intended deduction from the verdict; nor was any intimation made to me on the subject, till the time appointed to receive the amount (as I supposed) of the sum, to which the verdict of the jury had given me A LEGAL CLAIM. It was then, to my astonishment, proposed to me, that if I would consent to a deduction of ten per cent. the balance should be paid in debentures, bearing an interest of five per cent.; but if I refused to make such a deduction, the debentures should bear only three per cent. As I had been induced to go into a court of justice by the assurance of the Commissioners, that an appeal to a jury (if I chose to submit to it) would give me redress, and had in consequence of such appeal obtained A VERDICT, I desired time to consult my counsel, Mr. Erskine and Mr. Adam, on so extraordinary and unexpected a proposal, which the Commissioners informed me, the act of Parliament authorized. It being the opinion of Mr. Erskine, and Mr. Adam, upon consulting the act, that I had no alternative, but to submit; I was compelled by the imperious necessity of the case, and the pressing demands, accompanied with threats from my creditors, to consent, (if an act under such circumstances can be called a consent) to my own ruin. The annexed account is confined solely to the deficiency arising from the mode of payment, amounting to nearly 17,000*l.*; and which, great as that amount is, forms but a part of the loss I have sustained by this unfortunate business. I have proofs sufficient to make it clearly appear, that my loss (including the deficiency of the payment), arising from a variety of circumstances that attend a state of embarrassment and distress, such as I have experienced, amounts to a sum very considerably exceeding 30,000*l.*

A variety of reports having been circulated to the disadvantage of my reputation, stating the misfortunes I have experienced to have been attributable solely to my own indiscretions; and that, having obtained a verdict, I had accordingly received (as the public imagine) the amount of my claims upon the Prince of Wales; I have thought it necessary, by the advice of my friends, to draw up the annexed statement, accompanied with a few observations (merely explanatory), for the purpose, not of conveying censure upon others, but to vindicate my own character; and an attentive perusal of the contents of this paper (which are strictly true), will, I presume, clearly point out the source of the dreadful calamities that have been experienced by my family and myself, in the transactions alluded to.

Pall Mall.
