Sir

Shooters Hill 15 March

1801

I am afraid Gray has rather expressed my Message ^{unpleas-} edly - I wrote you the Prince desired an Agreement might be made for another ^{Year} & the blame justly laid on poor Admiral Payne, who latterly was remiss & negligent in Business - & had not let Mr H know of the decided warning Lord Shrewsbury sent, which Admiral I never sent to me either; - Otherways I would doubtless ~~immediately~~ have acknowledged it - You have therefore to request another Year, & to ~~ask~~ ask a renewal of some of the Furniture, as absolutely the Chairs are quite dangerous, & the Carpets were out -

As to what Gray mentions about the Green House is I ^{do} do - The Hot House is so ruinous that the Rain cannot be kept out, & the grapes tho' well taken care of yield no Crop -

The premises ~~otherways~~ are much improved -

What I wish is for you, to advise the impossibility of keeping up the Hot House without a thorough repair and tho' at this Moment we can give it up as it was when we came yet the Plants will be so injured by another Winter that it will be impossible to restore the Plants as given without this re moving the Wood Work - To facilitate your Agreement I desired ^{to} mention to mention I had heard of some other Houses but I certainly would wish this for the next Season -

There are some other things I shall be glad to mention at Meeting, but writing is almost impossible with my Sincere Companion

I am Sir

Your Much Obliged Servant
