Since I had the honour to write to your Majesty I have seen Mr Robinson, He states in the strongest & most alarming manner the distracted State of Lord Perth's mind. He explains what Lord Perth had mentioned of the Behaviour of Lord Stromont, & says that Lord Perth said that the Behaviour of the Chamberlains & Lord Stromont was such, that if the same happened again, He would not sit in Cabinet with them. This is all I can learn; There is much of Opinion in the City; It is in my humble Opinion however right that the whole should be cleared up, & I am still of the same sentiment that I was, when I wrote to your Ma^{ty} justly last. In Obedience to your Majesty's Pleasure to turn over Duty for Sir John
C. Jenkinson

I shall pay my Duty to your Majesty tomorrow
