

Minute of H.R.D.'s Speech in House of Lords

38088-9

Be perfectly acquainted

I have no inconsiderable apprehension ~~at~~ the first time I have the honor of addressing your Lordships I rise to offer my sentiments respecting the address wh. is ^{at the present moment under} ~~the subject of~~ ^{Yr. Lds. consideration} I mean to be as brief as possible, & to trespass upon your patience but for a very few moments. I shall not pretend to enter into the large field wh. ^{the present Sikh and} ~~is~~ ^{is} at the first sight to our view ^{as I am certain Yr. Lds. will have it much more} ~~but to~~ ^{of this, also, I wish to say I am perfectly prepared} myself merely to the stating those principles wh. I very early ^{in life} ~~embraced~~ ^{glory in professing} & shall ~~attach myself~~ ^{attach myself} to the latter hour of my existence. Our Constitution has long been the envy & admiration of the World, the ~~Principle~~ on wh. this great & famed Fabric has been raised is perfect, it has afforded protection to millions it has ensured the happiness of millions, & I therefore ^{consider} ~~think~~ the duty of every well wisher

Mi

or lover of just freedom & order in ^{the} ~~the~~ ^{King & States, as perfect} ~~to prefer~~ ^{to support} ~~an~~ ^{in his honor} ~~in~~ ^{of his Country} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~great~~ ^{to} ~~executive~~ ^{that} ~~that~~ ^{sh.}

Minutes of the in the
 of the

Minute of H.R.D.'s Speech in House of Lords

38089

^{three of} ^{represent as it were} ^{perfectly} ^{model} ^{in his power} ^{that} attention by any exertion in his power, in its ^{perfect} ^{states and devices} down to us by our ancestors, as the ^{best} ^{model} of government for increasing the ^{prosperity} of the ^{State}, & giving the most permanent security of freedom & happiness to the People. ^{Therefore} my lords, by these sentiments I feel myself ^{in fact} called upon to give my hearty support to the present ^{address} as I shall to every measure which I consider as likely to contribute to the ^{Peace} ^{the tranquility} & ^{the} welfare of this happy Nation.

Minute of speech
 in House of Lords

The Prince of Wales

Minute of H. R. H., Speech in the House of Lords

Minutes of speeches