Dec. 14. 1700.

My Dear Lord

I will not trouble you with many words at the present moment therefore will immediately come to the point which that if you do not find it ~~extraordinary~~ ^{contradictory} to your own mode of thinking I wish most sincerely you would deprecate the idea of bringing the question of right to a division in either house as considering it in the light of a question of infinite delicacy & perhaps conveying with it a most serious as well as dangerous tendency should this meet with y^r approbation

Relating either to the care of His M^{ty} Royal Person in His illness, or to the proposed Regency.

I shoud you express your sentiments to this effect this day in the house of Peers I shall consider it as a personal obligation confid upon the law My dear Lord

Most sincerely your

George P.

Ca. ller. Hall
