Sir

May it Please your Royal Highness to accept of my most sincere thanks for the very great Honor your Royal Highness has Conferred on me in giving immediate an answer to the Letter I presumed to trouble your Royal Highness with.

Nothing but a severe Illness could have prevented my acknowledging this great Mark of Condescension in your Royal Highness sooner. With a Heart overflowing with gratitude for this particular Honor I beg leave once more to trouble your Royal Highness & to assure your Royal Highness that it shall be the Study of my life to Deserve your Royal Highness esteem & to be Ranked amongst those who are more truly attached to your Royal Highness's Person and that you will at all times find me ready to support your Honor & Dignity.

I Hope & indeed I flatter myself that you will have very Reason to be Content with the People of Ireland, & I trust in spite of the machinations of the Present Administration, that your Royal Highness will be Pleas'd in that Situation in this Country you are so Justly Entitled to.

I Have the Honor to remain with Submission your Royal Highness most Devoted Worshipful & Most Obedient Lover
