

Ld. Chamberlain to H.R.H.

39282_3

Sir

Respectfully

wednesday morning

I am in great hopes that I shall be able to discover by means of the Letter your Royal Highness has sent me, the Person ~~whenever~~ it is that is so active in repeating & propagating every Evil Report from Carlton House. It has gone to such a length, that it is very necessary on every account to find out the author of such wickedness.

As Lord Mordaunt told me he should see your Royal Highness to day, I will not say a word of what passed yesterday, more than that hd.

2888

If the Prince had not sent for me, I wish'd to have kept out of the way for a few days for many Reasons I can explain to your Royal Highness when I have the Honor of seeing you, & untill Lord Moor's Lord finishes his Negotiation.

From the Temper of the Times I sincerely hope that whatever arrangement is determined upon, may speedily take Place as I really believe People are only left clamorous at this moment with the View to a Reconciliation being near at Hand.

I only hinted in a very slight manner

Good.

your
Thank
Remem
conce
your

ld. Choiseuadeley to H.R.H.

39283

The Subject which your Royal Highness wished me to mention to the Princess, Her Royal Highness did not receive it as I expected, I therefore shall not resume it again of some Time.

Her Royal Highness told me yesterday it was her Intention to go to St James tomorrow.

I am very glad Sir to know you are to wear London, as it grows every Day more necessary to put an End to this unfortunate Business.

I am Sir

Lady Choiseuadeley returns your Royal Highness many Thanks for your gracious Remembrance, she is truly concerned for the uneasiness your Royal Highness feels.

with great Respect your Royal Highness Much obliged & Faithful
Your Servant
The Honourable

1838

21796

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]