My Lord

I was engaged the whole of yesterday morning on business but returning about 12 past five for a paper I found Your Lordship's note, & immediately went to the House. I was however extremely mortified that I could not stay, for I suffered so much in my head & bowels (which I attribute to the exposing myself early in the morning to the cold wind) compelled me to retire & will oblige me to confine the whole of this day. If it is not giving Your Lordship too much trouble, I shall be highly gratified in conveying to Lord Morda how much I felt, when I was obliged to retire, for although I was really ill when I received the note

note, yet my solicitude to comply with its contents, may we forget what it is probable I should otherwise have attended to I am very respectfully
