Sir Robert Wilson to Mr. Hutchingson

My dear Sir - I have much reason to believe that my prediction will be verified.
You are about to be appointed to a very honorable Station where your Services are most likely to be required namely "the Eastern District -" Mr. Frank Sheridan may indeed prevent this arrangement for the King is certainly not a little indisposed towards you in consequence of information given to him of the Author of the Paris Letters and that information could alone proceed thro' the name of General Beaupre that the Duke has had a very difficult Case to perform in consequence of the ~~same~~ ^{same} ~~prejudices~~ and distinctions. It was only one week before L' Moira's appointment that the King declared a ~~new~~ ^{new} should again be brought forward. I am of opinion that ~~he~~ ^{he} was always the object but the Duke preferred to bear the opinion in preference to con-mitting his father - At the present moment Addison and the Duke by our own Meridians' battle are at daggers drawn therefore of course every attempt will be made to thwart the Duke and expose him to general animadversion for Messieurs He has not the power to control - However as far as relates to yourself I should imagine tomorrow a very extraordinary message will be sent to the House -

Your friend Effy is most solicitous to see you - Have you written of the very nature of your regret is mortified. It was only my misapprehension a very good appointment noon should I am of opinion attach but
I am
