Dear Sir I have just received yours of the 20th which was sent me from Wroston and should have been very happy to have the honour of seeing his Royal Highness here at whatever time might have been most convenient to him; but I learn with extreme concern that H. R. H. is indisposed. This being the case I will, whenever He shall have any commands for me, have the honour of waiting upon him in town at the hour He may be pleased to appoint. - I will in the ^{mean} time trouble you for a line to let me know how H. R. H. is. The phrase in the letter I have received is "taken ill," which may apply to a mere or, as I hope, to a less serious Indisposition. - I am very sincerely,

my dear Sir, your obliged humble Servant
