

Duke of Northumberland to Col.
The Malton
5. Nov. 1870

5th Nov. 1870.

Many thanks for your continued Bulletins - The Death of the Prince, in his late terrible situation, is rather to be considered as a Release - he had enough to offer my Compliments of Condolence to H. K. H. on the occasion - The more I think of what I last wrote to you, the more I am convinced in the Propriety of my Opinion - Had the whimsicality of my Opinion, they must care to the D. - They will not dare to go or without him
The years 1788, & 1870, are totally dissimilar -
The first was a period of Peace, & Prosperity -
The present of War & Difficulties.

I am sorry however to find, by letters I have received from some of H. K. H.'s friends, that he is likely to be urged on to a very different Conduct.
Dear yours, most sincerely,
