

Duke of York

January 21. 1705

43691

Sir

I have only the time to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's two gracious Letters of the 3^d and 4th by the Counsell, as well as of one of the 11th which I received by the Post this morning, I did not lose an instant in communicating Your Majesty's orders to those whom they concerned and I hope to be able by the Counsell of next Friday, to send you, Sir, the answer which you have desired, as this is not a safe conveyance I shall delay till this Evening more fully upon these Subjects Permits me however, Sir, to express to Your Majesty, how much I feel Your goodness in placing such Confidence in me and how much it shall ever be my first Care to deserve it. I have the Honour to be, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Hannover Jan: 21th 1785

Frederick

Sir

I now set down to acquaint Your Majesty in what manner I have executed Your orders, concerning the arrangements to be taken about Edward

As soon as I received Your Majesty's two gracious Letters of the 3^d and 4th by the Courier I immediately informed the grand Marshal Monsieur de Luttenfels of Your Intentions, and gave the Honor to send Your Majesty enclosed, all the estimates which You have ordered, at the same time having consulted with Freytag and Bude; We thought it best that Wangenheim should go to Lunenburg and see himself the Persons who ought to be employed in teaching Edward. I had having some time ago, ordered Fryday, and he to look out for some Officer who could be placed with Wangenheim about my Brother, We had thought of recommending Captain Lingier to your Majesty who is at present with William, supposing that Edward would not arrive till William returned. Indeed there can not be taken away a steady Man for this Office than him, but as It appears that it is your Majesty's intention to leave William still some some

to Ina for so
The very
of the will a do exc abroad to con agreeab good Majesty appear to look

Mr
 and he Maffey
 and
 he but mending who hoping William liked has Maffey's
 some

some longer here, We have thought it best to make Wargenhein look out himself for some body whom he could depend upon He very strongly recommends Capt. Lair Major of the Horse Guards, whom he says he will answer for, Indeed I believe he will do exceedingly well as he is a man already acquainted with us and therefore may be confided in and is also exceedingly agreeable in conversation, and speaks remarkably

William good French,

Last Friday I received your Maffey's letter of the 11th in which you appear to prefer the idea of sending Edward to Göttingen, As your Maffey has done me the honor to ask my opinion about this alteration I thought it best to acquaint Freitag, Bude' and Wangerheim, with it They agree with me in the idea that though certainly Edward might find better and more famous Masters ^{there} than at Leinebour yet that there is one circumstance that does not appear to have struck them who have recommended Gottinger to Lewis Majesty, which is that ~~we~~ not judge of Gottinger or indeed of any other German University by an English one, where the Young ones are confined in ^{colleges} Colleges and the ~~rest~~ have great Authority over them at Göttingen on the contrary the Young Men live all separately, and the Professors have very little more than a nominal Authority over them, so that there does not pass a Day without some very great excess or other being committed, We therefore humbly submit it to Your Majesty if it would not be very risky to send a Young Man who has never been in the World before to such a place, When he will hear every Day of these excesses and when he will in a manner be oblig'd to keep company with the very people who commit them. And if unluckily he was to take this time, Being, of an age not to be treated like a Child I would be very difficult to keep him back. We therefore thought it best that Wangerheim should still go to Lunenburg, what he has done, and I enclose to your Majesty the papers which he has given me in writing In order however to lose no time I immediately acquainted the Grand Marshal with your Majesty's orders, who has already sent somebody to Göttingen in order to make inquiries about the House at Göttingen, he however has desired me to acquaint your Majesty, that the House

43 a German to find of Edward being so papers before
of Majesty
Lunen
a further
Majesty
which so you at the a by Munger are so small that it will be impossible to find a house big enough to contain the whole of Edwards family, that also all the lodgings should being taken at least till Easter, He can not answer to get every thing ready for Edwards this before the latter end of April or beginning of May at earliest, on the contrary it immediately Lunenburg it might be got ready in a fortnight.

Thus have I given Your Majesty an exact account of every step which I have taken in order to fulfill so quickly as possible, Your orders, hoping at the same ^{time} that they will meet with your Majesty's approbation. I must be also to depart, and, how much I feel this mark of your Majesty's confidence and how much it shall ever be my first care to deserve it

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your Majesty's

Remains Jan^r 28th
1785

Insensible for
and subject

Frederick

Duke of York
January 20. 1785

43696 - 7

Sir

In order that there may be no delay to whatsoever Place Said Majesty may determine to send Edward, General Freytag and I have thought it best to desire Colonel Weydenbeck to go himself to Göttingen and see the persons, who may be employed in teaching my Brother as well as the houses where the Army lodges I have the honor to enclose to Your Majesty the reports which he has given to Me, and I shall only wait for Your Orders, in order finally to settle every thing.

As I shall soon be obliged to appoint some Body to give my Vote at the Diet at Bratislava, and as I should naturally wish that it should be given always the same way as Your Majesty's permit me, Sir, to ask your leave, to appoint Messieurs d'Orpède, who is at present Your Majesty's Minister there, or 43 whome

Majesty
for some was con
Winter
a fall it is Majesty
shall give my that I Hannover
1705

43697 whoever hereafter may be sent by Your Majesty to that place. But Weather has for some time appeared as if the Spring was coming, but ever since Yesterday the Winter is returned I never saw such a fall of snow in so short a time it is in many places two feet deep.

I will not trespass upon Your Majesty's leisure by a longer Letter, but shall conclude, by entreating You to give my duty to the Queen, and by repeating that I am, Sir

Yours Majesty's
Hannover Feb. 10th 1705

Most Dutiful Son
and Subject Frederick

70384

[Faint, mirrored handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

1872

1785

1872

Sir

I take the opportunity of Major Gunn's return to England, to inform Your Majesty, that I received last Monday, through the Duke of Brunswick, the inclosed paper from the King of Prussia, with the desire, that I would lay it before Your Majesty. You will see by it, Sir, how very deep the Emperors schemes are laid, and how much it appears to be His intention to encroach upon the Constitution of Germany. As, however, this Paper does not sufficiently explain the whole of the machinations of the Court of Vienna, nor the full extent of the King of Prussia's wishes, I think it my duty to acquaint Your Majesty, at the same time, with every thing, which the Duke has been so good as to inform me of, through Monsieur de Haddenberg, whom He has sent to me here under the pretence of his own private Affairs.

The Manner, in which, the Emperor of it, first declared His desire of making the change of Bavaria, against the Low Countries, was through, Monsieur de Romanzoff, the Russian Minister, to the Duke of Deux Ponts, (for the Elector of Bavaria denies having been informed of the least thing by the Emperor, though it is almost certain, that this is a concerted plan between them both,) Monsieur de Romanzoff acquainted the Duke, that the Emperors wish was to change the Low Countries against Bavaria, and the High Palatinate, with the title of King, either of Austrasia or Burgundy; and in order, more effectually to induce him to consent in the Emperors' wishes, He offered him, in the name of the Emperor, a pension for his life of several millions of florins, upon condition, that He would allow the Emperor to raise recruits, and to keep Roman knew of it

He to a good
Duke
conce
acqu thing to cle appe
chang
of the
the witho
and of
is no
has might
It is slea

has own
 Emperor of it, and upon the Duke's making difficulties, exchange he told them, that if he did not consent with was a good grace, he would be forced. However, the Prussian Duke of Deux Ponts absolutely refused to for consent, and sent off immediately expresses to been acquaint the Court of France, and the herod, King of Prussia with this proposal, and is is to claim their assistance. France did not Monseur appear at first to have any objection to this but the change, but since, through the representations Countrie of the Court of Berlin, and the Duke of Deux Ponts, tinate, she has declared herself against the change, nie or without the consent of the Palatine family, by to and of the King of Prussia; but, however, there wishes, is no placing any reliance on her, as the Queen herod, has so much interest, and as the Swiss will lions might and main in favor of her Brother. ould It is also known for certain, that Prussia has d to already marched a very considerable Body of Troops towards Gallicia, in order to support the Emperor's projects, and that there is assembling another in the neighbourhood of Regi. Since there is no great reliance to be made on France it remains for Germany to defend its own Constitution, which can only be done through a Union of the different Princes, who are Members of the Germanick Body, and whose common interest, if I may be allowed to say, it is to hinder any innovation whatsoever, as Your Majesty well knows, that if the Door is once opened, it is no easy matter to shut again. In all probability, the Emperor will not declare to the Diet his intentions of making this change, till such time as he thinks his projects sufficiently ripe for execution, and then it is certainly no very great effort of genius to imagine, that he will support his argument with a Body of Troops sufficient to enforce the execution of his projects, If therefore the 43700-1

Princes of Germany do not before hand unite, and agree together in what manner they will oppose the Emperors views against the Constitution of Germany, there will be no time left, afterwards, for negotiations of any sort. It is with this view alone, that the King of Prussia wishes, that the different Princes would enter into an Alliance, merely in defence of the Constitution of Germany By this His Majesty does not at all mean to make them take part in any private quarrels, which He may have with the Emperor; but, only in case, the Emperor, or any other power makes the least innovation, or infringement on the Constitution of Germany, that they will agree among themselves to stand up in its defence.
The King of Prussia's age, and infirmities make Him by no means desirous of a War, and therefore He certainly will do His utmost to prevent it but He sees plainly, that if some very strong Barricade is not put, at the very Beginning, to the Emperors projects, Heaven knows where they will stop.

I have now, Sir, acquainted Your Majesty as I have thought it my duty, with every thing, which Monsieur de Hardenberg told me by word of mouth. Permit me, Sir, before I conclude to make some remarks, upon what I have had the honor of writing to Your Majesty. First of all, You will see, Sir, that my Ideas, which I mentioned to Your Majesty, at my return from Vienna are verified, that the Emperor had some very great project in view, which was not then ripe for execution, but which, when ready, would show how unbounded his Ambition is. Secondly That this project of His Imperial Majesty is no new one, on the contrary, that it is the great point, to which all his views, ever since he mounted the Throne, have tended, This is the second time, that he has declared it, and certainly even if he does not succeed in obtaining he will take the very first opportunity to bring

As forwards again upon the Carpets.

It therefore behoves all the Princes of Germany, who have a real desire to preserve the Constitution to unite in order to survive; and if they succeed this time, not to think, that all their labors are over, for certainly, if they do not keep a very good look out, and are not always prepared against any attack whatsoever. They will be taken unawares, and the harm be done without even a possibility, either of hindering it, or of restoring things to their former position.

There is one thing more, which must be said, which is that the idea which many People have, that the King of Prussia's wish is to make up of the other Princes of Germany as a barrier between them and the Emperor is really too absurd, because, it is as much the interest of the Princes to join with the King of Prussia to hinder any encroachments, as it is of the King of Prussia to join with them in the same Cause, because the keeping up of the Constitution of Germany depends wholly upon the Ballance of Power between the King of Prussia and the Emperor. It is hardly possible for the King of Prussia to augment his power, at least on the Side of Germany but I am sorry to say, that there is more than a probability that the Emperor will, if he is allowed; and if unluckily that Ballance is once destroyed, and Prussia overpowered, it will not cost much to reduce the rest of Germany.

The information which I gave Your Majesty some time ago that the Elector of Cologne was doing every thing in his power to obtain the Coadjutorship of the different Bishopricks in Westphalia is but too true, he means shortly to make a tour to Paderborn, Hildesheim and Brounswic and I suppose here too under the pretence of seeing the different Commaneries of the Teutonic Order but in reality to make more sure of his point. If he succeeds the House of Austria will have such a footing in this part of

Germany, as well make it almost impossible ever to drive about again.

I shall now wait Your Majesty's orders, what answer I am to give, which I trust Your Majesty will see the necessity of sending as soon as possible.

I have already trespass'd too long upon Your Majesty's leisure, I shall therefore conclude by entreating You, Sir, to give my Duty to the Queen, and by repeating, that I have the Honor to be, Sir

Your Majesty's

Inaffectionate Son
and Subject

Hannover Feb. 28. 1705

Frederick

P.S. I received by the Carrier Your Majesty's gracious Letter of the 11th, which inform'd me with Your Majesty determined to send Edward to Lunenburg, and I gave immediately all the necessary directions that every thing should be in readiness.

43703.4

Sir

Permit me to return

Your Majesty my most humble thanks for your last gracious Letter of the 22^d which I received by the Quarterly Messengers I immediately acquainted the Grand Marshal with Your Majesty's orders to prepare every thing for Edward's reception, and he has already given every necessary direction, I also spoke to Count Walmoder Gumborn about the Hoops which Your Majesty has ordered to be sent to Lunenburg, and I have the honor to enclose to You, Sir, the Proposals which He has sent me. There is one point which He has desired me to mention to You, Sir, which is humbly to entreat You, Sir, to allow a small augmentation ^{of pay} to the Servants who are to go to Lunenburg, for really the pay of all the persons attached to You, Sir, is so very small that it is with the greatest difficulty that they can subsist, and therefore it will be wholly impossible for them to live at Lunenburg without some trifling addition.

Our Winter appears at last to be drawing to a conclusion indeed I think it has lasted long enough, for I have not been able to ride out since the end of November last.

43704

Every Body here expects worse inundations of snow than last Year, as there is an extraordinary quantity of snow, fallen in the Mountains.

I shall not stop any longer this time upon Your Majesty's business but shall conclude by repeating that I am, Sir

Your Majesty's

Obedient Servant
And Subject

Stammar March 11

1705

Frederick

10985

Mar. 11. 1785

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting throughout the page]

Duke of York
March 10. 1705

43705

Sir

I want words to express to Your Majesty how much I feel this best mark of Your favor and confidence in permitting me to be informed of every thing concerning this Preliminary Her Permit me Sir to repeat to Your Majesty that it shall ever be my first care ^{to} do every thing in my power to deserve that affection and partiality which Your Majesty has upon every occasion been pleas'd to shew towards me.

I have considered ^{and} this last letter, which I had the honor to receive from Your Majesty, and shall by the next courier answer those parts which I do not think safe to touch upon by the Post, I have acquainted the Grand Marshal &c. with the same when Your Majesty means to send Edward and every thing will be ready in time,

I am Sir

Your Majesty's

Hannover March 10th 1705
Most dutiful Son
and Subject
Frederick

43706-7

Sir

As the last Letter, which I had the honor of writing to Your Majesty went by the Post, I did not think it safe to answer many parts of Your last gracious Letter, ^{to take} I me therefore, Sir, this opportunity of repeating my most humble thanks, for Your goodness in permitting me to be entrusted in every thing belonging to the Academy here, after having been informed of the general formation of the Lomyns Academy, The Gentlemen have thought it best, that I should go twice a Week to the College itself, in order that I may be more an fault of the Manner of treating the Affairs than I could possibly be wem I only to hear the report after their Conclusion.

What Your Majesty is pleas'd to say about the Emperors projects is most exceedingly just They are certainly more extensive ever than one can imagine, and if not put a Stop to at the very beginning it will be impossible to do it when they are come to Maturity.

I have been desir'd by William an idea to express to Your Majesty, How very sorry he is, for having given You, Sir, occasion to be displeas'd with Him, and How much it shall be his great care to behave Himself is futur Appears

But for can be a till the displeas'd of Ship
All kind him or any soue
an idea
Good
the Head doubt the

is future in a more becoming manner, He certainly appears affected with your Majesty's last Letter But pardon me, Sir, if I add, that there need can be any real Alteration for the better in him till he has been ^{kept} for some time under strict Discipline, which alone can be done on board of Ship, for his natural inclination for All kind of dissipation will make him, either here or indeed in any place by land, run into any Society where he can form to himself ~~any~~

William an idea of Pleasure.

Sorry We have hopes of engaging a very good troop of German Comedians here at the Head of which is Schroeder, who is without doubt the very best German Actor that ever excepted, It only depends upon Your Majesty's being graciously pleased in addition to what You at present give, to allow them the Musick and lights, as for the Musick, It is only necessary to order that Your Band, who have at present nothing to do should play, and as for the lights it is a very trifling expence

I will not trespass longer upon Your Majesty's leisure, but shall conclude with repeating that I am, Sir,

Your Majesty's

Hannover April 1
1785

Most dutiful Son
and Subject

Frederick

Frederick
Hannover April 1st 1785

Sir

Permit me to begin my Letter by returning Your Majesty my most humble Thanks for Your last two gracious Letters, the one of which I received by the Count the other by the Post.
 Immediately delivered to Lieut. Colonel Wengenheim the Instructions about Edward. He has desired me to transmit to Your Majesty the Inclosed Letter, which contains nothing but his humble Thanks for the very great confidence which You are pleased to place in him, I likewise acquainted Count Malmeda, with Your Majesty's gracious

4
I was
Majesty
Sign
approbation of his proposals concerning the Horse, &c at Lunenburg. Last Week I gave Captain Freytag and Captain Low the Bank of Chamberlains, which I thought Genl Maffey will not disapprove of as You have already been so good as to consent to my making these ² ~~3~~ ² ~~3~~ Genl Maffey. Besides it is infinitely more convenient in travelling so one of Low has the rank of Chamberlain Honours and account of dining at the different Courts.

Lieut. Freytag I was present at the trial of a captured Gun, with a lock ball, which succeeded most exceedingly well. I incline to Genl Maffey Captain Maffey's opinion of it, If it is possible to apply it to an Iron Gun it will be of essential use to the Navy

From Greenwich

April 22. 1905

Sir

As the Summer is now approaching I do not think it right to delay longer laying before Your Majesty a plan for my excursions, which I hope will meet with Your Approbation. In the beginning of the Summer I do not think of making except a small excursion to Opulnick when I have not been for some time, and may be to Lunenburg, & the Autumn however I should wish to avail myself of an invitation which I have had at last the Honor to receive from the King of Prussia very long and therefore am desirous of setting out at the the Beginning of August to be present at his the Camps in Silesia from whence after having seen the fortresses then I may go to Berlin and stay till the Autumn manœuvres at Cottbus, after which I shall return to If this project meets with Your Majesty's great Approbation may I, Sir, take the liberty to ask Your Majesty's leave to take some of Your Saddle Horses with me to the Camps as well as some of the Coach Horses to Ansbach.

never be praised but Summer has been had at last begun, Indeed the Winter has been the A long very longest I ever saw, as well as the Frost at the River, The Duke of Brunswick has lost part of his youngest Brother Prince Leopold, who has been drowned at Frankfurt upon the Berlin River, of which he was Governor in trying to convey some Assistance to the neighbouring Villages, which were overflowed and in very great distress

I will not trouble Your Majesty with a longer Letter I shall therefore conclude, by entreating You, to give my duty to the Queen and by signing myself, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most dutiful son
and subject

Hannover May 6
1785

Frederick

P.S. I open my letter again to acquaint Your Majesty that the Quarterly Messenger is just arrived, and has delivered to me your last gracious letter of the 20th, which I shall do myself the honor to answer by the next courier who sets off next Friday.

J. Frederick
Hannover March 1785

opinion that Your Majesty has taken the only ^{means} by introducing them into an active line of life, to bring them back to a right way of thinking and acting, I am exceedingly sorry to find by Your Majesty's last Letter that You have had some fresh cause of Displeasure from a certain Quarter, My Affection for You both makes my Heart bleed, whenever I hear of any thing which gives You a moment's Displeasure. I will not wasp upon Your Majesty's business this time, but shall conclude by repeating that I have the Honour to be, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most dutiful Son
and Subject
Frederick

Hannover May 13 1785

Prince Frederick

May 24 1705

43713

I seize the very first opportunity to return Your Majesty's very humble thanks for Your very gracious Letter of the 17th as well as for the permission which You have been so good as to give me to go to see the reviews in Hesse and at Belfordam.
The Field Marshal has informed me that he had received Your Majesty's orders to propose Captain Sinfziger for the first vacant company of foot. May I however humbly hint to you that You were at first pleased to appoint them to be Aid. de Camp for the Cavalry and that it would be done, then the very greatest favor if You would graciously allow them, to be placed in the Cavalry, the Affair of the Service is so trifling, that that could be no reason to hinder it. General Freytag knows his merit, and I am convinced would rejoice at this success.

I will not intrude longer upon Your Majesty's Leisure, I shall therefore conclude by entreating You not to give any Duty to the Queen, and by signing myself, Sir

Your Majesty's

Hannover May 24

1705

Your dutiful Son
and Subject
Frederick

Prince Frederick

May 27. 1705

43714

Sir

I think it my duty to acquaint Your Majesty that the Regency has just this moment informed me that they have received intelligence from their Agent at Brighthelm, of King Brother Edwards being arrived there safely at 10 O'clock Yesterday Morning and that in all probability the Craft have arrived at home by four o'clock Yesterday evening; Unless there is some particular danger which delays the Departure of the Tacht which We do not at know, William means to set out from hence on Monday for Harbourg, when I shall endeavor to Your Majesty's orders accompanying them, in order to be advised who will come there on Tuesday from Lunenburg to dinner, to will then proceed on Tuesday evening to Stadr, and embark on Wednesday morning for England.

As I shall do myself the honor to write to Your Majesty by William I shall not add more to my Letter, except to repeat that I am, Sir

Your Majesty's

Hannover May 27
1705

Most Dutiful Son
and Subject
Frederick

Sir

I take the opportunity of Williams setting out tomorrow upon his return to England to return Your Majesty my most humble thanks for Your last very gracious Letter, which Edward sent to me, who arrived safely on Thursday evening at Stade and set off the very next morning for Lunenburg.
Your Majesty may depend upon my doing my utmost to keep Edward in the right way, and I trust that every thing will go on well. I have no doubt also 43712 that the Gentlemen who are about them will live cordially together, as indeed it is the only means for every thing to go on well should do. I am afraid I forgot to acquaint Your Majesty in my last Letter, that Captain Haysen. was taken so very ill a short time before Edward arrived, that it was totally impossible for them to go to Madras However he is now better, and I hope will very soon be able to go to Lunenburg.

The Letter from Your Majesty Letter has I confess grieved me most exceedingly though at the same time I can not but say, that I have all along been afraid that My Brothers natural love for Capence would at last bring them into some very

43710 disagree

Majesty
I see good, an it is the love to
which character
which about to dispa come so orders a where Dinner

disagreeable situation. The conduct toward Your Majesty has astonished and vexed Our Ance-tors possibly except, His Most Excellent Majesty is good, and therefore the only means to account for it is that some disaffected, discontented People have taken advantage of that Good Nature which makes so considerable a part of His Majesty's Character to make Him act in a manner which when He comes to think seriously about it, He will repent and be the first to disapprove of. That that moment may come soon is my most ardent wish

I shall according to Your Majesty's orders accompany William tomorrow to Harbours where we have given rendezvous to Edward at Dinner on Tuesday, In the Evening William will proceed to Madras, where he will embark on Wednesday Morning,

I have the Honour to be, Sir,
Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Hannover May 20
1705

Frederick

Brown
May 29. 1705

43717-8

Sir

As it is uncertain whether William will be arrived by the time that Your Majesty will receive this Letter I take the liberty to acquaint You, Sir, that We shall depart Monday from here for Harburg where We arrived the same evening, Edward came over to us from Lunenburg the next Morning.
We dined all together and in the evening William continued his journey to Stade, where he was to embark early the next Morning.
I took care according to Your Majesty's orders not to leave them alone together, I must say however that William spoke very properly to Edward and gave him some very good advice As for Edward I think him very much grown and improved in every respect, so he seem the is as yet very little accustomed to the ways of the world but that is so much the better as it will be much easier to put him in the right way and to keep him in it. I must also add that he spoke of Your Majesty and of your goodness towards him with tears in his eyes He appears very much pleased with Wangerheim and Wangerheim with him so that I have no doubt that every thing will go on well. God's worthy I think is grows when I complim

My letter upon the however that N
that M Blessing
grant complan
Hammov
178 grown fatter otherwise he is exactly as he was when I left England.

As I know how little your Majesty likes compliments I did not chuse at the beginning of my letter to trouble you, with my congratulations upon the anniversary of tomorrow I can not however finish without expressing to you, Sir, that no one here sincerely rejoices at ^{that} ~~the~~ ^{that} that Heaven may shower down its choicest blessings upon your Majesty's head, and may grant you a long and a happy life on the constant prayers of Sir.

Your Majesty's

Hammer June 3
1785

Most dutiful Son
and Subject
Frederick

Princess Charlotte
June 3 1795

43719 -20

Dear Brother

I write these lines to return you many thanks for the very handsome present which you was so good as to send me by Goldsmithy, indeed it is most beautiful. I find Edward most exceedingly grown and improved in every respect his figure is infinitely better than ever could have been expected when I left England

AA

437

News You can not expect from Me here unless it is that We are in daily expectation of the Emperor seizing upon Bavaria. His Imperial Majesty seems to have a wonderful Mind to swallow up that Country. I will not trouble You longer with the politics of this Country, what will I believe amuse You much. There is another Subject upon which I should be very glad to write to You but I do not think it safe to mention it in this Letter which goes by the Post I shall however take the ^{very} first opportunity of writing very fully to You about it. I will ~~not~~ trespass longer upon Yours

before

Jan 17

Hanna

17

AA

43720 to have hesitation

before, and shall therefore conclude by repeating As ever sincerely I am
Dear Brother

Dear Brother

Of
most affectionate

Hannover June 7
1793

Frederick

to have
hesitation
His
dearful
I will
to of view
I hope to you entire
I hope
I am
I am

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

June 7. 1703

The Duke of York
10th June 1785

43721-2

Sir

I am desired by General Gravelle humbly to entreat Your Majesty to grant them Your permission to return to England for a short time this Autumn. His Brother soon after his father's death, wished them to come over to settle his Affairs, but lately he has wrote them word that it was absolutely necessary, he has promised me however to return to me as soon as he can finish his Business. He means with Your Majesty's permission to set out for England as soon as I return from Silepe, so I shall not see him during the Winter, It is usual the Croff convenient time for them to be absent in the Beginning of the Spring, He has promised to return

It was at first my intention to have stayed at Hannover until the time of my setting out for Silesia, but Dr. Zimmerman has insisted upon my going to Pyrmont to drink the Waters and bathe there, as the only thing which would thoroughly cure one of the terrible Cramps and Spasms in my Stomach to which I have been very subject for the last two years. I have persuaded Colonel Goldsworthy to go with me there and shall bring them back with me towards the latter end of July when I shall employ my self for my expedition to Silesia. I could wish very much to take Colonel Goldsworthy with me, as it would not be the smallest inconvenience to me whatever and to be an opportunity which for interest

 again.
 your it is a it incl comes has been several part of possible
 May

Establishment between England and Germany I should not have ventured to trouble Your Majesty with it had not M^r Under been recommended to me by Sir Robert Keble, as a very fit man to be employed upon such a Business except the place should meet with Your Majesty's approbation M^r Under is one of those unfortunate trades who have lost very considerably by the late War in America. If Your Majesty should wish to receive any further information relative to the above place M^r Under will be happy tho' returned to England.

Since I have wrote this for the Carrier is returned from Holland and has delivered me Your Majesty's gracious letter of the 3^d in which you are pleased to grant Captain Linsinger's request of being placed in the Cavalry I immediately acquainted him with it, and he has desired me to lay them up to you 43723

Majesty's grace and to express to you his most he feels this great mark of your Majesty's goodness towards him,

I am, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Amsterdam June 10th
1785

Frederick

June 15th 1785

AA

The Prince of Wales

The
Duke of York.

43724

My dearest Brother,

I am desired by the Duke of Devonshire to recommend to you John Beddingfield who will have the honor of delivering this to you, I know nothing of him personally myself except y^e. he has certificates he writes to show you from several Generals of his having serv'd remarkably well.

I remain My dearest Brother —

June 15th
1785.

Ever most truly y^r. affectionate
George B —

1810

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting on aged paper]

43725.6

My dearest Brother,

I received yr. last kind Letter on Friday last, I can not express to you how anxious I am to hear from you what business of consequence it is you want to talk over with me, believe me there is nothing you can wish me to do or attend to for you opt. I shall not be most anxious to execute to yr. satisfaction. I have also many affairs & much business I wish to talk over with you, I wish to God you wd. devise some method for our meeting, if you will settle any Place where you think we can meet with any sort of convenience I will instantly come & join wherever it is.

My particular Friend Colman (who has had ye. pleasure of being introduced to you last Year at the Margrave of Anspach's) will deliver this to you, let me seize this opportunity of recommending to you for yr. protection his son whom I believe really is a very good & a very promising young Lad, whd. it be in yr. power soon either trusting thro' any promises you may have bound yourself under to recommend him to the King for one of the best Companies in the Guards, I shd. look upon myself my dearest Frederick as under very particular obligations to you. William has just sail'd, I think he is a very good hearted & very lively spirited, perhaps a little too boisterous, poli, mais peu maniere. I have not time to add

AA

43726

anything more than to express how anxious & impatient I shall feel, till I hear from you again, as I am unremittingly desirous to know what it is you wish to say to me. Adieu my dear friend believe me ever thro' out life,

Carlton Place. Your most affectionate June 22nd
1785.
George B

P.S.
Pray excuse this scrawl as I am writing to you off the back of my travelling Box as I am going to set off for Brightonstone.

38733

[Faint, mirrored handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Carlton House, June 22, 1785

The Prince of Wales

Sir

I send you herewith your Majesty's very humble thanks for your very gracious Letter of the 14th which I received last Post, I am very happy to hear that William arrived safe, the resolution which your Majesty has taken to send him immediately on board is without doubt, the very best thing which could happen to him, and I am very ^{sure} if he is kept strictly for some time, that he will soon recover very well. Every thing goes on well at Lunenburg Edward appears exceedingly pleased with Weymouth.

and Wangerheim and Greece are upon a very friendly footing together. In short I trust that every thing will go on there in the best manner possible.
Colonel Wangerheim has desired me to enquire of Your Majesty, whether you please that he should send the reports directly to you, or whether you chuse that they should pass through me.
There is one thing about which I must take the liberty to trouble your Majesty, which is about Edward's finances; I understand by Your Majesty's last instructions to Colonel Wangerheim, that he is to receive 2000 crowns out of which he is to give Edward 10 Dollars a week for his pocket expence, May I humly represent to your Majesty that this is considerably too small,

4372

Dover up
Submitt

Hennor

P. S.

Chad

43728

Draw upon this subject for the present but only submit it to Your Majesty's consideration Jan, 1711

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Hannover June 24

Frederick

I. S. I enclose to Your Majesty the paper which I had the honor to present to You in May last

L. Frederick
Dinner June 24, 1795.