

Sir

Make the earliest opportunity to transmit to Your Majesty the inclosed papers which I have this very morning received from M^{rs} de la Roche, the first is the copy of the one which Your Majesty sent back, the ^{other two} second contains the exact account of the different rights and privileges belonging to the Estate as well as of the different fields &c. M^{rs} de la Roche has at the same time ordered the plans of the different Houses and the situation of the House to be immediately made, and will send them as soon as finished, He adds that he had delivered, according to Your Majesty's orders, Your gracious Letters to Your Ministers Messieurs de Busle and that it was impossible to describe, how strongly he felt Your Majesty's goodness towards them, and the confidence which You have been pleas'd to place in them. He will immediately examine the the Registers to see if there are no precedents of fees having been bought in. but if not he thinks that there need be no difficulty of upon buying, Under Your Majesty was to know that of the family of Blakes ever became extinct, that You would then give up a sufficient portion of Your domains ^{some when it} to form a fee of equal value, that besides this ^{would} hardly ever happen as the Blake family is very numerous, and that as there is a fee which can go to the females, it is next to an impossibility that it should ever be extinct.

After having staid four days at Newmarket
I came here, left Sunday, I found the place infinitely beyond ^{our} what I suspected, and situated in a most beautiful country the house is good though not large, and with a very trifling alteration may be made most comfortable.

Having nothing particular to add, I will not trouble Your Majesty longer upon this subject I shall therefore 43873 only entreat You Sir to give my Duty to the Queen and my truly, Sir

Your Majesty's

Respectful Son
and Subject

Alexander Malmgren Oct 11

1787

Fredenck

to having to no

Kelown

to you

when the

to you

as the responsibility

Sworn

to beyond

country

thing

I will not therefore

Order of the Bath 11th 1709

Duke of York

19th October 1797

43874

Sir

Though I intend to leave this place at the beginning of next week, yet I can not help troubling Your Majesty with a few lines to shew You my best humble thanks for Your very gracious letter, as well as for the information which You have been so good as to give me that Colonel Abercromby would be sent out to the West Indies, and therefore would leave me and I shall certainly take care to look out for a proper person in his Room.

I shall leave this place on Monday and expect to be in town late on Tuesday evening. The Snow Hill of this Country the finest I find it, indeed I am certain that it is the most beautiful part of Europe I have ever seen

Permit me to entreat Your Majesty to give my Duty to the Queen, and to believe me Sir

Your Majesty's

most dutiful Son
and Subject

Albion Oct: 19

1787

Frederick

Duke of York

December 24th 1707

43875

Sir

I have the honor to transmit to Your Majesty, the enclosed Letter from Your Minister Monsieur de Busset, which I have this moment received Your Majesty will find by it that every thing is concluded about London. I do not know, Sir, whether Your Majesty is informed, that Your Grand Marshal Monsieur de Leuchtenstein has had two Strokes of the Apoplexy, the first more violent at the Club where he was playing, the second very slight in the same Room

I have the honor to be,

Sir

Your Majesty's

White Hall Dec^r 24

1707

Most Dutiful Son
and Subject

Frederick

Blank rectangular area at the top of the page.

Main body of the page containing faint, illegible text or markings.

The Duke of York

16th April 1788

43882

Sir

I take the very earliest opportunity to transmit to Your Majesty the enclosed Letter from Your Minister Monsieur de Buzale, which I received yesterday evening. By what he writes to me it appears as if the family of Letters are making many difficulties to Your Majesty's purchase of Lunden which is very sensible as they have received so many marks of Your Majesty's favor however he does not seem to think it of any consequence.

I am, Sir

Your Majesty's

St. James's April 14
1788

Obedient Son
and Subject

Frederick

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

The humble Petition of Lieutenant Henkelmann in behalf of the Association, to His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Baron Henkelmann

Mines in Nova Scotia

1780.

Your Petitioner, in the Name of the Association, to whom the high Reputation, so deservedly obtained by Your Royal Highness in Germany, is perfectly known, anxious to pursue the Subject of his Petition under Your Royal Highness's immediate Patronage and Protection, most humbly presumes to intreat Your Royal Highness to apply to our Most gracious King, for the Grant, in the Name of Your Royal Highness of the Mines in Nova Scotia, of which the Association is ready to make a full Discovery to Your Royal Highness. And further Your Petitioner most humbly requests Your Royal Highness, to obtain a Grant unto the Association of the Fifth Part of the Profit of Such Mines, to be divided in equal Shares amongst them, after the Same manner and according to the Custom both in Saxony and the Herz in Germany, where the Descendants of persons, who first found out those Mines, some Hundred years past, now enjoy the Shares, granted to their Ancestors, who first discovered them.

Upon His Majesty's most gracious Compliance they will instantly deliver into Your Royal Highness hands a Plan, correctly and minutely pointing out where Such

Mines

Mines lie, which are so situated, as to be absolutely out of the reach of any probable Discovery. And the Association will not put Your Royal Highness to the Smallest Expence but will proceed directly to Nova Scotia and open such Mines as shall be described, and will send Samples of the Strata and Ore to Your Royal Highness - will also point out such Mines to the Governor of the Province, that he may appoint proper Persons to inspect and report both on the Quantity and Quality of the Ore.

And Your Petitioner begs leave most anxiously to represent to Your Royal Highness, that after the Expences already incurred by a long Solicitation of the Privileges and Advantages, which he humbly hopes, His Majesty and Your Royal Highness will think due to a Discovery of this Importance, any further Delay in deciding upon their pretensions will be attended with the greatest Inconvenience to Your Petitioner

Who, as in duty bound will ever pray

John Henry Kenkelmann
Lieut: late Nova Scotia Volun:
Regiment.

The humble Petition of Lieut:
Kenkelmann to His Royal Highness the Duke of York a true Copy - shew to the King

The Duke of York
20th May 1788

43887

29

St James's May 20. 1788

Sir

Having understood from the Prince of Wales, that your Majesty, had not been pleas'd to approve of his papers by, at the head of the 10th Regiment of Light Dragoons which are to be reviewed by your Majesty tomorrow morning, and having remarked that it appears a good deal harsh, at the idea that Sir William Faunt had not sufficiently explained to your Majesty the manner in which the people took their oip, and the reasons which induced my Brother to consent to its being laid before your Majesty I trust, Sir, that you will not be displeas'd with me, if I take the liberty of mentioning them, to your Majesty, in order that you may not be ^{find fault} displeas'd with him or be induced to think that it only originated with him.

We went down together last Saturday to Blackheath to be present at a field day of the Regiment.

During the manoeuvres General Pitt expressed how happy it would be to have them and the whole Regiment, if, as they are the same of the Prince of Wales's Regiment he would do them the honour of appearing at their head before Your Majesty, at the same time it was hinted by other Persons who were present that this would give a great relief to the whole Army, at a moment, when perhaps appeared to some persons of lowering it in the eyes of the Nation. They saw the reasons which made my Brother think that this proposal could not meet with Your Majesty's disapprobation, and therefore induced them to consent to its being laid before You. I must be, however, to repeat my ^{own} hopes that Your Majesty will not be angry with me for having tried to explain this to You as it would give me the greatest pleasure to see You, but explain with any part of the family, if it is any ways in my power to prevent it. I am, Sir,

Your Majesty's

most obedient servant
Frederick

Mr. Pitt

June 24th 1788.

P - Letter to the D - of Y -
June 24th: Vated

Prines in Nova Scotia

43888

Mr Pitt begs Leave humbly to acquaint His Royal Highness The Duke of York, that he delayed troubling His Royal Highness on the Subject of his Commands, from the Hope of being able before this Time, to inform His Royal Highness that they were carried into Execution. Mr Pitt has been making farther Enquiry respecting the Mode of making the Grant in Question, but from the Chancellor's Indisposition has not yet been able to speak to him on the subject. He has no doubt of having that opportunity in the course of a day or two, and begs permission to assure Her Royal Highness that he will lose no time in endeavouring to expedite the Business as much as possible following that.

Tuesday June 24th 1788

Mr. Pitt

July 10th 1788.

Mr. Pitt's letter to the Duke of York

Mines in Nova Scotia

43889

Mr Pitt is extremely concerned to be under the Necessity of begging Permission of His Royal Highness The Duke of York, humbly to acquaint his Royal Highness, that it has not yet been in his Power to ascertain the necessary Particulars respecting the Form and Terms of the proposed Grant of the Mines in Nova Scotia. - He hopes however in a very short Time to be able to give His

Proyal Highness a more satisfactory Account, and He trusts the Delay will be attended with the less Inconvenience, as He apprehends the Season for sailing to North America will last some Time longer, and a Packet is dispatched to New York, once in every Fortnight.

Towning Street.

Thursday July 10th 1788.

Duke of York
14th July 1788

43890

St. James's July 14. 1788

Sir

Your Majesty does me but justice in being convinced, How anxiously I wished to be informed of your safe arrival at Meltonham, and I am not sufficiently express, to you Sir, How much I feel your goodness, in acquainting me with it yourself. By every thing that I had heard, the Country through which your Majesty was to pass, though not, in any means a beautiful part of England, but I am informed that the Banks of the River are reckoned exceedingly romantic. I have not as yet been able to settle myself at Rutland, but am busily employed in putting every thing to rights than for any ^{inability of, as} ~~inability of, as~~ ^{soon, as possible,} your Majesty is certainly perfectly right in what you are pleased to mention concerning the kind of Carts which it will be most advisable to make use of in order to transport the Garden Stuffs.

from Outlands to London, and I shall certainly take care to follow ^{to} ~~the~~ ^{God} as an example and advice. It shall certainly ever be my great care to seize every opportunity to pay my respects to Your Majesty, and to assure You in person, Sir, how much I glory in being your, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Frederick

43891

Dear Brother

Salmer has just ^{delivered} ~~given~~ me a paper from You which I do not in the least comprehend as Payne told me that You did not intend to let out for Brighton till Wednesday Tomorrow I am very particularly engaged, but if You have any thing of consequence to say to me pray write it to me, On Wednesday morning very early I shall be on board and if I do not hear from You I shall not fail to call upon You God Bless You, Believe me ever

Oathed July 14. 1788 Yours most affectionately
 Frederick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

July 14th 1788.

43892

Dear Brother

I am exceedingly sorry it is not in my power to go to Meltonham this week as I have some very particular business which requires my being in town on Friday, as however I should then today my visit there ^{will} longer I intend to go then next Sunday. I understand from Jack Payne who was so good as to call upon me the day before yesterday that you are now quite settled at Brighton He brought me back Mr. Pitt's letter, you can not but be of my opinion that it is the strongest of the you ever read, I desire to write to him to say that I am rather astonished that when there was so difficulty

When I in the last letter I had had many reasons to suppose that Henry was killed, that I therefore wrote which might be directly drawn out according to what had been killed between them and the, in form of a bond in order to be brought home which I sent under the great seal to be taken or broken out. God bless you, Believe me ever Dear Brother

Yours most affectionately

Salisbury July 20. 1700

Fredrick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

July 20. 1700