

Carlton House 19 Dec 1810

The Prince of Wales

44229

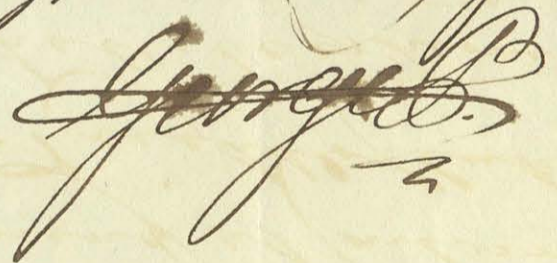

My dear Brother,

I must desire you to call upon me this evening at Carlton House, at half past eight o'clock, at the latest; I shall be extremely sorry if this is likely to be attended with any inconvenience to you, but it will not admit of delay.

I am ever my dear Frederick,

Yours most affectionately
George

Carlton House.
Dec. 19th 1810.

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting on aged paper]

Carlton House 20 Decr 1810.

The Prince of Wales

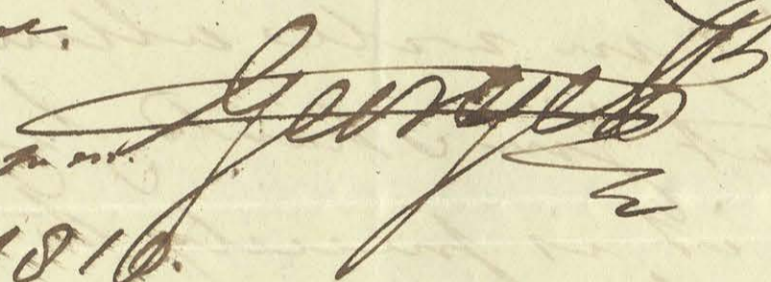

44230

My dear Frederick,

I have this moment seen Dr. Lumsden, who tells me, that you think, that having signed a former Patent, that that is sufficient to establish your opinion. But it is of the utmost importance, if you will allow me to say so, that you should sign this Patent as it is precisely to the same effect as the former one, & it is of immen-surable consequence, that your name should appear at the Head of the List of the Family, in order

To commemorate, set forth upon Record, the whole Family having acted unanimously together in every stage of these Proceedings I give notice, which is as follows, was met at the Northampton Court House.

Dec. 4. 1723.
Dec. 28. 1710.

P.S. You will meet all your Brethren of the House, who are gone down to sign it.

Scheme for preparing Public Documents at the commencement of the Regency - enclosed from the Lord Chancellor.

H. K. H.

The Duke of York

July. 11. 1811.

Whitehall February 11 1811

44232

Dear Brother

Inclosed I transmit to you a Compendium which the Lord Chancellor wishes the Scheme that he has enclosed to be by your directions of the Compendium intended to be made use of tomorrow for opening and declaring the further course of holding the Parliament

It appears to me to be perfectly unobjectionable and I see a convenience suggested to Lord Chancellor but I see not how any difficulty in carrying it by some being inserted in it.

Believe me

Dear Brother

Your most affectionate

Frederick

25 March 1811.
H. R. H.
The Duke of York

44233. M^{rs} Grd the post to collect it Monday March 25 1811

Dear Mr. Keble

As the enclosed letter from Colonel Whitely of my Regiment to be entirely some details of the glorious Action that has been fought near Cádiz, the Duke being like to read I therefore send it to you, Pray let me hear it back again when I return to Paris tomorrow

Dear

Yours most sincerely

Godson

[Faint, illegible text in a rectangular box at the top of the page]

[A large rectangular area containing faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Dear Brother,

The Physicians have desired me to go down to the King; not having seen him all Day. I am going to Carlton House as soon after the 12 P. M. as you can to meet the Mr. & Mrs. G. who are to be there at that Hour, & keep them till I come

& you may depend upon my being with you, the very intention the interview is over, which is to last but a few minutes.
 It is Halifax's express desire that I should now go down, the King having been informed at about 4 p.m. of the decision of the L^{ds} Council; which according to what I can gather at the present moment, appears to have had a deep effect, though little has been said as yet about it; ~~the~~

De
 W
 L
 H

44235

Dear Mr. [unclear]

Very respectfully

Windsor Castle, [unclear]

London, [unclear]

April 7th 1811.

[Signature]

in my intention think inter.
decide was found decision
think negotiation to appear at length yet more

10.11.18.

My dear Mr. [unclear]

The Prince of Wales

My dear Mr. [unclear]

44236

Stall. Yard May 20 1841

Dear Brother

I called at Carleton House upon my arrival from Windsor to inform you that Her Majesty rode out this morning in the Great Park, at twelve o'clock and was to remain out till his dinner.

He continued in the same hurried way ~~all~~ the time he was with Her Majesty yesterday evening as he has when you left us, and Mr Henry Bulford reports at ten o'clock he exactly the same only with the addition of being very agreeable.

As he had, I understand, four horses kept during the night but got up in the same hurried and inward manner this morning. Her Majesty however was so pleased and she complimented to such of lameness that he knew, thought riding would be far preferable for him than walking. He appeared highly pleased with the proposal and at length gave time to see given a different lesson to his ideas He attempted to put on his usual boots but found it utterly impossible, from the swelling of his legs and was under the necessity after repeated trials to wear the Jack Boots belonging to the Uniform of the Blues. His conversation in the evening over the morning was the counterpart of that of last night

Dear

Your most affectionate

Frederick

The Duke of York
to

The Prince of Wales

May 20th 1811

Ms. 9.
Carlton House 21 May 1811.
The Prince Regent

44237

My dear Brother,
I send you enclosing to my promise the inclosed Papers for the Queen. Be so good as to apologize to Her for my not coming to wind her to wish her Joy, Tomorrow, & pray tell her, that it is not the ancient custom
I alone that prevents me, but my old enemy I am afraid (notwithstanding whatever gentler name they may choose to call it by, sponsored with rum

d. c. d. c.) ^{but} the Lord, who at present holds me fast by the ~~long~~ ^{long} ~~step~~. Advice ever must suffer for further Home. Yes

Tue 4. 8. 11.
May 21. 1811. George B. J.
P. C.

44238

North York May 24 1811

Dear Mother

You will have heard from Mr. Decker how like the King took your kind communication concerning Mr. Poy. Mr. she advised me for Mr. Decker to go from today is order to see Mr. Gerrit whenever you is here or perhaps, I on Monday past taking off and then when tomorrow when I will not find to call at Collier's house

Yours

Your Affectionate Son

Frederick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince Regent

May 24. 1811

My dear Brother,

I leave this moment only in my return home, ~~and~~ ^{from} your note of Recommendation, in consequence of the Death of Mr. Scott, I am entirely ~~connected~~ ^{connected} with you, in the most ~~complete~~ ^{entire} ~~entire~~ ^{entire} ~~entire~~ ^{entire} promotions which you have proposed ~~in my case, to which I am~~ I remain ever,

Most affectionately,
Your brother,

Colston Anne. George B.
Sally Wright. E. C.
June 29. 1811.

1884

[Faint, illegible handwriting in cursive script, possibly a list or account, covering the majority of the page.]

[Faint, illegible handwriting on lined paper, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side]

44240

Answer to the Letter. Letter
dated. In June 29. 1811.

The Prince Regent
to

Mr O in the of York

June 29. 1811.

On the recommendation upon Mr Decker of Genl. Scott.

Account 44241 Home Guard July 3 1944

Dearest Brother

Not knowing whether Lord Liverpool may see your copy of Liverpool Home I think it right to acquaint you that in obedience to your orders I have made the following arrangements, the orders for which will go off by tonight's mail.

3 Squadrons of 4 and 7 Dragoon Guards and the 3rd Dragoons, completed to the North and Fife & West Coast to embark for Spain under the command of Major General de Mervel as soon as the transports can be got ready for them, as taken an additional Squadron of the 9th Light Dragoons, and a Light Cavalry Battalion to be despatched by the Admiralty to Dublin with orders to Lord Wellington to send the two Squadrons of the 9th Light Dragoons about a week ago under Lieutenant Colonel Chabot.

I am happy to inform you that the Brigades of Infantry which was intended to reinforce Lord Wellington from Jersey and Guernsey proceeded directly from those Islands to gather together with a large Detachment of Barracks for the different Regiments in Portugal and as I had arrived early by this time, whereby the whole view a reinforcement of considerably above four thousand men

The Duke of York

to

The Prince Regent

July 3. 1811

I am sir

Dear Sir Brother

Your best affectionate

Brother

Frederick

44242

Waltham July 17 1811

Dear Brother

I am just returned from Windsor and am wondering how you get on to send you a few comfortable accounts of His Majesty

He has been quieter the whole of the morning and for two or three minutes when the Physicians went into the room seemed to know Dr Baillie and expressed after Dr Reynolds, but this I saw of Benson has been gone and here that he has remained in nearly the same state as he has been in for the last two days. Benson being quiet all night has been removed but he does not seem to be in the least sensible of it, what Dr Miller does not like.

I had a long conversation with Dr Baillie and Baillon, ~~they~~ tell him to get the report consider the danger is immediate at the present moment but Baillon appears to be the source of his opinion of the less than Wilkes.

God bless you and believe me ever Dear

Brother

Your most affectionate

I forget to add that the King's letter has shown what he has very patiently

Fredonck

The Duke of York
to Mr Prince of Wales

July 17th 1701.

44243

North York July 25 1844

Dear Brother

I am this instant returned from London and am truly grieved to inform you that every thing continues in the same deplorable way, the Agency has very much in the money refused to put for his election was deemed to get out and continued to report only good till two o'clock when he told Dr Richard that he opposed any to run he would take it in consequence the objection, but soon fell and wrote a long draught of Bull and then asked for some Party Bidding.

Dr Wells who I saw just before I got into my Army house very kind and kind and the he the I my thing At King was a good man today & most of the return to 1 or 2 or 3 or 4 over

Your kind regards

Frederick

July 25. 1811

The Prince Regent

The Duke of York
to 44244

Stall Yard July 27 1791

Dear Brother

I am just returned from Windsor and have little or nothing to add to the melancholy account that you received this morning from Sir Henry Walpole, except that His Majesty had continued to refuse all assistance. The Arch Bishop and the Chancellor went over to His Majesty's apartment in order to judge themselves of the present state without making themselves known to Him; I am not able to inform you what opinion they formed concerning Him, but I understand from Sir Baillie that during the time they were in His Majesty's room, the King was quite and left uncorrected for he had been reading the rest of the history.

I left the Queen and my sister very low but fully aware of and perfectly resigned to what must soon be the probable result.

Love Dear Brother

Your most affectionate

Frederick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

July 27th 1811

44245

Stalks Yard July 31 1871

Dear Brother

I have nothing new to communicate to you since you heard this morning from Windsor, except that it being judged expedient that Her Majesty should take medicine, and the proposal being carried great objection, I became necessary to put him under restraint, when the medicine was taken and he has remained quiet and sulky ever since except that he was asked what he chose for dinner which produced for a short time a great excitement.

Both Dr. Miller and Dr. Baillie stated to me that Her Majesty's Body has certainly gained strength since the last three days, but her mind remains in the same melancholy state as it has been since the beginning of this Illness, and Dr. Miller added that though from the Body being left under the influence of dream she was left unobscured to be observed in Her Majesty's conversation, yet that He had not yet smacked on national Deceit, and that in the contrary, every delusion ever of the wildest kind which had appeared in the thoughts of the delusion still continued in force

Believe me ever

Dear Brother

Yours most Affectionately

Frederick

Mr Duke of York

To

Mr Prince Regent

July 31. 1811

44246-7

North Shields September 20 1811

Yr Obedt Servt
B M

Dear Mother

I am this instant returned from Windsor and have to acquaint you that the account of the Kings recovery continues exactly the same without the least shade whatsoever of better though he is today a better & better mood than yesterday.

Mr Henry Holford sends me the answer that has been given by the three Consulting Physicians that he will live to you tomorrow morning the most explicit is certainly Dr Ansons, but except overturning every thing that Dr Keble has said & tried to prove they seem to be to contain little or no information whatever, and though Dr Summers says that he has known some persons of the age of the Kings Majesty who has recovered yet to the Queen when that is put directly to her Mr. Fox that he is not able to give an answer Dr John Willer I understand from his Brother is very sorry for the answer to the last Queen.

Mr Henry asked me if I had seen her Letters to you to that I answered in the affirmative upon which he asked me if I liked it better I told her that I was sorry that he had written it as I thought though I had no doubt with the best intentions that he had kept out of her Sphere. I had not time to say more to her as I was then called to attend the Queen, I found Her Majesty rather low she began immediately by asking me what I thought of the answers of the Consulting Physicians when I told her that they seemed to me to contain nothing at all except a complete contrary opinion to Dr Keilwoods former upon the treatment of the Measles, that however I

Henry by the percept said any of
of the senten
to sh the th of alle to the or to of pro
the h the so awon thought my duty to put her upon her guard as by the popularity of the Council, taking advantage of the peremptory answer, in that to James to hold out her Majesty's recovery as left in doubt the any of the other Objections, to press her again to admit of her personally attending the King, and in case of the continuing to refuse it, of their rendering her reputation so that to my great surprise she said that she should not be interested at it, as the Duke of Monmouth had some time ago dropt some thing to that purpose. I then endeavoured to lead her on to talk upon that probably to the contrary of proceeding at the meeting of Parliament but she would not enter into it but changed immediately the subject only saying that she was perfectly aware that she must be an exonerator of Edmund

Yours

Dear Brother

Your most affectionate

Frederick

The Duke of York
April 20th 1811.

44248

London October 5 - 1674
to your mother

Dear Mother

I have waited to the last moment in hopes of being able to communicate to you what had passed at the Queens Annals, but being on this morning and it does not appear probable that my wife should yet for some time

The only particulars I know are, that the Lord Marcellus, the Archbishop of York and Lord Ellenborough saw His Majesty almost immediately upon their arrival, in consequence of the earnest request of the Physicians, who noted the necessity of getting relief to give him some medicine. They were but a short time in the Room, as particularly His Majesty gave them every proof that could be desired of his illness, they then began by examining Sir Thomas Aulford and returned to him at the close of the examination your questions be satisfactorily answered in writing the point of which is whether he answered the Majesty's Majesty is answering to himself.

Every body is to be examined among the most Colonel Taylor, who I have not yet seen or he has been in waiting all the morning.

When I had got from just Colonel Taylor's answers to be, having just been examined, nothing can be done in favor of the question which has just been asked, which has become among the best but for, and I suppose it will be still some time before the Council concludes their business.

Believe me ever

Dear Brother

Your best affectionate

Frederick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

O. A. 5. 10. 11

44249-50

Monday October 12 1811

Dear Mr. Prother

After a very interesting discussion of the King's Regal Privileges, the Leices. Council proceeded to see the Amending Privileges, and after putting a few questions to them, in answer to which I understand that all have fully approved of every thing which had hitherto been done, they give their own questions to answer separately, in writing, whether they had had sufficient opportunity of judging of the King's title from her domestic invasion and habits, or whether they wished to see further proofs, and lastly whether they had any other to offer, - Dr. Hammond stated in that he for as he could judge from what he had seen of the King, as from the communication myself

I had had from the regular Physicians, the had recommended have had success that I hoped would do good, but that I could not rest from a conclusive judgement

For ^{conclusion} Munnos is bent less than of regard to the expectation of any beneficial effect from the Medicine but agrees with Dr. Simmons in the I have received success

For John Miller in the contrary does not think any hope of improvement from the effect of the Medicine, nor does he express any wish to see the King agree upon the ground of success

The Arch-Bishop in Delaware, a Letter of the Queen and answer to the Queen asked the Majesty of the King any objection to the Gentlemen returning agree, to which he replied that he had not the least objection to the return

44250 on Friday next to make them report on Saturday and as I like to see them turned to see how they will and led very particular himself in the County he would desire for the present with his return unless great circumstances should produce any proposal of alteration in the Treatment then he would require his Majesty accordingly to be the others. His Majesty's intention is to show you his papers tomorrow but I can tell you the more certain than before

I have been told that the Bill is not good but I like fully consider with his Brother in the ~~proposals~~ of the opinion that he has formed of his Majesty's case

Believe me ever

Dear Sir

Your most affectionate
Frederick

The Duke of York

to

The Prince of Wales

Oct. 12. 1801

Windsor October 19 1811

Dear Brother

I had not only three of Her Majesty's Council who came here today, the Arch Bishop the Duke of Devonshire and Lord Alington, they were by examining first the two Consulting Physicians, who in fact I can understand at first said a great deal upon one or two more several sentences that Her Majesty spoke during the Physicians visit ^{as a proof of the treatment they had proposed during their office} but upon a further enquiry into what had passed as well as to the circumstances of the Week, the Council found no ground for a more favourable view of the Case, there two Physicians however being again asked their opinion as to the general state returned for answer that they had not yet seen enough of the disease to form any judgment it was therefore proposed to Her Majesty that they should return again on Friday to what the Council concluded and upon the Arch-Bishop's policy, but it was so full that I should not come on that day, Her Majesty said that she had no objection to it, however, being Her Majesty in the presence of I Robert Willes of it was clearly understood that he was not to be admitted to the King's Room without leave.

Her Majesty has likewise agreed to an alteration being made in the attendance of the Physicians, whereby her Honour Holger will come here on Wednesday, and they will after the Council be met on Saturday, I Brouncker will come on Friday, and they will be Monday, and I Belunder unless I Brouncker on the other day, till the Wednesday, and return again for the Friday, so the Council has concluded upon all the Physicians, they be on Friday and they will be after that, as recommended on Thursday

now

Your most affectionate
Charles

Wm. Brouncker
To the
Arch-Bishop of York

44252

Windsor October 26 1711

Dear Brother

Only three of the Queens Council attended today, the Arch Bishop the Duke of Monmouth and Lord Winchelsea, and the examinations of the Physicians were very short, I understand that they all agree in opinion that the Medicines proposed - perhaps ago have rather done harm than good and they have in consequence determined to give her Majesty successively doses of Relief, and as yet is in such a state to overcome the condition which has always ^{been} the case for a long time that medicine has been administered it is intended that the Solus shall be tried in her favor.

The Council afterwards went to her Majestys Room to see her while she died, the Majestys Guelder has used, but every symptom of the disease was banished.

I am ever

My Dearest Brother

The Council have not returned your best affectional reassurances, letters and other kind allegedly mentioned to the Archbishop he hardly found an acknowledgment of the receipt without saying any thing upon it, The Council has proposed that the Consulting Physicians shall return next Friday, and I understand that there is to be a meeting of the Council at the Archbishop's next Wednesday

Mr Duke of York
to Mr Prince Regent
Oct. 26. 1711