Lord Shelburne's Note I look upon as an instance of personal attention, and feel it as such; I trust from it You has stood firm and will have remembered that the Powers intrusted to him in the Ministerial line according to his own sentiments, gives him strength with more vigour to resist all others. I shall be glad to see Lord Shelburne at seven this Evening if that hour is perfectly convenient to him; ~~where I hope he will bring the~~ ~~whole he has wished that I may have fairly~~
