Treasury Chamber
Monday P.M. 1<sup>o</sup>/Feb
Apr. 21st 1782

Lord Rockingham humbly begs Leave to inform his Majesty, that if his Majesty is graciously pleas'd to appoint the Duke of Portland to the said Lieutenantcy of Ireland, the Duke of Portland will attempt to execute so important a Trust with all possible Duty, Attention, & Fidelity.

In this case, L<sup>d</sup> Rockingham would humbly propose to his Majesty, that the Duke of Manchester should be appointed to the office of Lord Chamberlain.

The Lord Lieutenantcy of Ireland, & the Lord

Chamberlains offices being thus filled — Lord Rockingham would humbly submit to his Majesty, whether the immediate Resignation of the said Steward would remain necessary in point of any arrangement, which was proper.

Lord Rockingham much wishes to avoid any new or additional Expences upon the Civil Establishment, unless in urgent Cases, as it is already so grievously over loaded.

Lord Rockingham humbly requests his Majestys Permission to attend him at my House in the forenoon on Wednesday, if not intuding upon any other Disposition of his Majesty's Time.
