

Draft of the Note that was intended to have accompanied the D. Draft to the M<sup>r</sup>. of Buckingham and the E. of Shelburne

Queen's House April 7th 1782

4609

That no mistakes may arise in the conducting of business and to make things as much as is in my power both agreeable to the Marquis of Buckingham and the Earl of Shelburne, I have drawn up the enclosed Paper of which I send at the same time a copy to each, and trust when they have conferred together it cannot fail to meet with their hearty concurrence.

Queen's House
April 7th 1782.

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a header or address, which is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through.

Main body of handwritten text in cursive script, consisting of several lines of text that are significantly faded and difficult to decipher. The text appears to be a letter or a formal document.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the main body, possibly a signature or a closing phrase, including the words "Yours truly" and "John Bull".