Dear Lady Elgin,

As I am only this moment awake, & consequently behind my time, I will beg to put off my visit to you till Tomorrow at the same hour that I was to have waited upon you today. You will be happy my dear Lady to learn that I have had a few lines from Eliza, to inform me that the Queen is considerably better & much more composed this morning.

Your affectionate
Carter Stone. March 9. 1787. — George D^r
